NEW THREAT OF STRIKE FACING U.S. RAILWAYS

Walkout Called By Switchmen For 10 Western Systems

CHICAGO (AP)—Ten mid-western and western United States railroads were threatened today with a strike Tuesday morning by 6,000 switchmen.

The walkout was called Wednesday night by the Switchmen's Union of North America (A.F.L.) in a wage-dispute.

It came less than 48 hours after settlement of the crippling six-day firemen's strike against five carriers. The five are not affected by the threatened new walkout.

Union president Arthur J. Glover said in Washington the strike was set to enforce demands for 48 hours' pay for a 40-hour work week. The union, one of the five operating brotherhoods, was not affected by the 1949 decision by presidential emergency boards giving the 40-hour work week to non-operating workers.

The strike action, Glover said, will be directed against the Chicago Great Western; Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific; Denver, Rock Island and North-western; Denver and Rio Grande Western; Great Northern; Minneapolis and St. Louis; Northern Pacific Terminal Company of Oregon; St. Paul Union Depot Company; Sioux City Terminal Railway Company, and the Western Pacific Railroad Company. The strike deadline was announced as 6 a.m. local time.

A spokesman for the Association of Western Railways said switch tenders, yard foremen, yard brakemen and helpers would be affected by the strike. The union, he said, represents about 10 per cent of the men doing this class of work on the U.S. carriers. The others—some 90,000—are members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

British Tory Asks House To Outlaw Reds

LONDON (AP)—Sir Waldron Smithers today asked the government to outlaw the Communist Party.

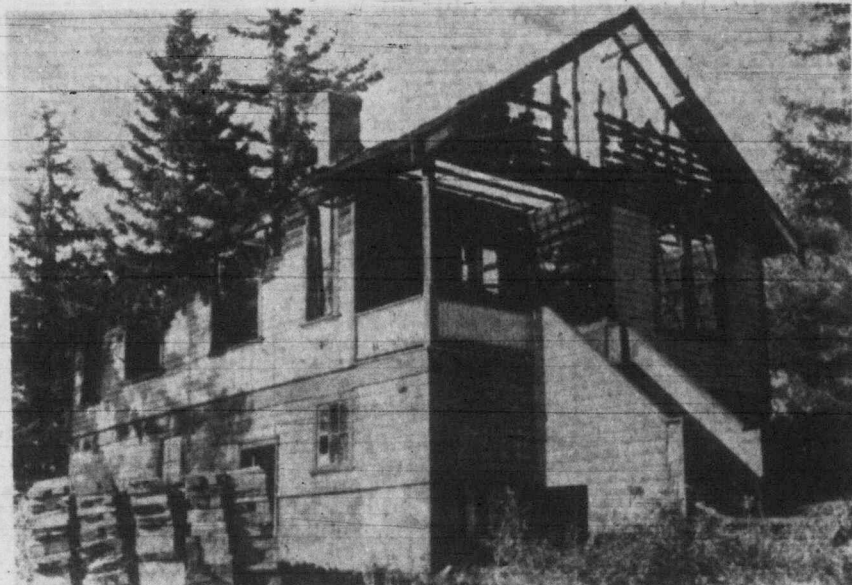

Peace among the powers is unattainable unless as a first step the government takes immediate action "to do so," the Conservative member for Orington said in a motion submitted for debate in the House of Commons.

Bills to outlaw Communism are pending in Australia and South Africa. Sir Waldron is an ardently anti-Communist, right-wing legislator who recently sponsored a public petition urging the government to "do so."

His motion today made a similar request, without naming any ministers. The motion would be debated in the Commons only if the government should agree to make time for it.

Communists have held on several important trade unions, but they failed to elect a single member of Parliament in the Feb. 23 election. They polled only 31,746 votes.

Wind, Rain Pose Worst Winnipeg Flood Threat

WINNIPEG (BUP)—This city's sagging dike defences today faced their severest test since the flood crest hit the city last Sunday.

Meanwhile, unofficial estimates said farmers in the 65-square stretch of the Red River valley ranged from $100,000,000 to $300,000,000.

Thugs Beat Up Columnist Who Hit Syndicate

HACKENSACK, N.J. (UP)—Police broadcast a two-state alarm today for two thugs who beat up columnist Lee Mortimer, author of several articles exposing a national crime syndicate.

The 45-year-old Mortimer reported the attack was made Tuesday morning in a washroom at the Riviera night club, Fort Lee, N.J. He charged that it was an obvious attempt to intimidate potential witnesses for a forthcoming Senate probe into nationwide crime.

Mortimer said one of the thugs knocked him unconscious while the other stood guard at the washroom door. Signey Kingsley, author of the hit play "Detective Story," who witnessed the attack, said the hoodlum struck Mortimer three times after he was down. Mortimer suffered eye injuries and facial lacerations.

Club attendants told police that the two men escaped in a black convertible with New York license plates.

STRIKE TANGLES TRAFFIC

350,000 Atlantans Jam Streets As 1,500 Trolley Drivers Quit

ATLANTA, Ga. (UP)—Every available policeman was called out today to help untangle a street-clogging traffic jam that followed the midnight strike of Atlanta's 1,500 trolley operators.

The 350,000 passengers who daily ride the trackless trolleys seized whatever means of transportation they could—automobiles, bicycles, motor scooters and the "ankle express."

Police Chief Herbert Jenkins assigned a traffic cop to every corner in the downtown area and increased his motorcycle force, but even so, automobiles were crammed almost bumper-to-bumper at the peak of the morning rush hour.

Hundreds of downtown workers stood in front of their houses trying to thumb rides. Jenkins urged car pools be organized wherever possible.

Although the strike began at midnight, trolleys in service completed their runs and the pinch was not felt until today's schedules were canceled about 3 a.m.

The walkout came after weeks of fruitless negotiations between the Transit Union and Georgia Power Co., which operates the transportation system. It was the third such strike here in four years. The one last year lasted 19 days.

Members of the Amalgamated Streetcar Operators' Union (A.S.O.) demanded an eight-cent per hour wage increase and certain pension improvements. The company rejected all union proposals on grounds that the $450,000 annual extra cost would force an increase in fares.

Something happened to the clear, sparkling Shoal Lake water that once gushed from the tap.

The stuff that comes forth nowadays, when there is still threat of flood-borne typhoid fever, is enough to make any true native swear off it for the duration of his stay.

Through 80 miles of rocks, trees and prairie, Winnipeg's drinking water is drawn from Shoal Lake on the Manitoba-Ontario boundary. In B.R. (the fore flood) days, it was a limpid fluid that slid easily down the most tender throat. Now...

As a precautionary measure while the city literally fights for its existence against the flooding Red River, Winnipeg's water has been heavily chlorinated. It's safe, it can be drunk without boiling—but it's awful!

ANTI-STATIC LAW CHECKED

EDINBURG, Tex. (UP)—City Attorney Sid Harden today checked the legality of a proposed ordinance to ban the use of mixmasters and electric shavers because they create radio static.

The ordinance, which would prohibit "local interference" with radio sets, was proposed by Commissioner Sam Poterfor after the city manager had received numerous complaints from radio owners.

Big Refunding Dominion Loan Over Top

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Abbott today announced that the $745,000,000 record refunding loan launched Monday has been "heavily oversubscribed."

The books were closed at 9:01 a.m. EDT today.

He also announced that the issue, biggest of its kind in government history, has been allotted as follows: $350,000,000 will be in 2 1/2 per cent 18-year bonds and $395,000,000 in 2 per cent 4 1/2-year bonds.

Mr. Abbott said the government was "gratified" that investors had responded "so eagerly" to the offering. This response was "substantial evidence of confidence in the future of the country."

Orders for the bonds, the revenue of which will go towards retirement of two outstanding issues bearing higher interest rates, had been taken by investment dealers and banks Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Bank of Canada was the government's agency in the campaign and the minister said the bank will advise the investment dealers and banks tonight as to the proportion of their orders that will be filled.

Sends Sympathy LONDON (BUP)—Speaker, D. Clifton Brown told Commons today that he had sent a telegram of "heartfelt sympathy" to the Speaker of the Canadian House over the suffering caused by the Winnipeg floods.

Plan To Jail Douks At Navy Base Definite

COMOX—It is the intention to use navy buildings on Comox Spit, and not the nearby air force establishment, as a prison for Kootenay Doukhobors sentenced to penitentiary terms in the current uprisings.

This was indicated today in telegrams from the Justice Department at Ottawa to the Board of Village Commissioners.

The commission was informed the navy base was the most suitable location for the overflow of Doukhobors from the New Westminster Penitentiary.

The commission is objecting vigorously to the plan and is seeking the support of service clubs and other organizations of the district in fighting the move.

Telegrams are being sent to Ottawa officials including J. L. Gibson, M.P. for the area.

B-29 Crashes In Azores Killing All 16 Men Aboard

PONTA DELGADA, Azores (AP)—A B-29 bomber crashed off the runway at Lages Field Wednesday night and burst into flames, killing all 16 persons aboard.

Unofficial reports today said the United States Air Force plane hit an automobile parked off the field. The plane caught fire immediately and burned in a few minutes. Fourteen men were burned beyond recognition.

Father Badly Burned In Rescue Attempt

By ROY THORSEN

A mother and three of her five children perished in a fire that destroyed their home at 545 Agnes Street, Saanich, early this morning.

The dead are:

Mrs. Anne Reid, aged about 33. Her three children: Jackie, aged four years; Brian, aged three years, and Sharon, one-year-old today.

Survivors of the terrible catastrophe are the father, 35-year-old Ray Reid, air force veteran and electrician at H.M.C. Dockyard, and two daughters, Marlene, aged nine, and Janice, aged six.

Mr. Reid is in Jubilee Hospital recovering from shock, cuts and burns, the result of his gallant efforts to rescue his family in the flaming inferno.

The surviving daughters are being taken care of by Mrs. Dorothy Campbell, next door neighbor.

The two girls suffered only slight burns, but their exposed skin and sleeping attire were scorched and smoke-blackened.

MOTHER'S HEROIC ATTEMPT

According to evidence on the scene, the mother, although terribly burned, was trying to get her three children out of the house when she was overcome.

The dead children were all in the same small bedroom, the baby in a crib and her brothers in a bed.

The alarm for the fire rang in the Saanich Fire Department at 4:53. When firemen left the Douglas Street hall they could see flames shooting high into the air.

The one-story frame building with a basement was a mass of flames when firemen, led by Deputy Fire Chief Glen Robbins and Capt. Hector McNeill arrived with their crews.

The father and neighbors who flocked to the scene to lend a hand resulted in the two older girls being rescued. They were in bed in a separate room.

Marlene and Janice had run into the small bathroom and shut the door to escape the fire.

The father, awakened by the screams of "Fire! Fire!" by one of the girls, was confronted with a wall of flames and could do nothing to save his family from the inside.

FATHER SAVED DAUGHTER He rushed outside and smashed the bathroom window and got Marlene out. Neighbors, including J. McNeill, Bill Robertson, George Spindler and his father, William, Bud Goddard and Pearl McNeill got the other child out.

Cut and bleeding and his lungs full of smoke, Mr. Reid then tried to get in to help the rest of his family by climbing through the front double window.

Transit Strike Slows 500,000 In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Half a million commuters in the Pittsburgh district were forced to use emergency transportation today in an A.F.L. bus drivers' strike against five motor coach companies.

A sixth firm was given "a day's grace" and allowed to continue operations when it agreed to continue bargaining talks for wage increases for its 17 drivers.

The five companies employing 783 drivers were the Brentwood Motor Coach Co. and the Orleto Motor Coach Co., in the South Hills district of Pittsburgh; Debold Transit, serving Homestead and Munhall; West Side Transit, serving Charleroi, Monessen and Belle Vernon; and Penn Transit, serving Greensburg, Kittanning, New Kensington and Leechburg.

The sixth company, Bamford Brothers, serving Millin, Whitaker and West Homestead, agreed to meet with the union again today.

The union, the A.F.L. Amalgamated Street Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees, previously called a strike against Harmony—Short Lines, which serves 150,000 residents in the Allegheny Valley, May 2. That walkout still is in progress.

WINNIPEG (CP)—A wind-created, six-inch rise in the level of the Red River at one critical point menaced a new area of suburban Fort Garry today as Greater Winnipeg fought a flood situation officially termed still critical.

Flood Fund Near $5,000 Mark In City

Victoria Groups Organize To Aid Money Campaign

Contributions to the Mayor's Fund for Manitoba Flood Relief were nearing the $5,000 mark when tallied at noon today.

Donations turned in up until that time at City Hall accounted for more than $2,000 of the total. Subscriptions to the fund taken in at newspaper offices and radio stations came to a few hundred dollars short of $3,000.

Mayor Percy George today reiterated that donations both large and small would be gratefully received.

While donations made to the fund to date come almost 100 per cent from individuals, firms, organizations and clubs are now beginning to offer support.

The Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council has endorsed the fund.

Students at Mt. View High School are planning a variety show for May 29, proceeds of which will go to flood relief.

The Club Stroeck is organizing a May 24 dance for Winnipeg flood relief.

Canada, U.S. Will Exchange Arms Purchase

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's defence headquarters today exulted over what one high official called "the biggest defence news in several years."

It was the announcement in Washington by Defence Secretary Louis Johnson that the United States forces have been directed to develop a program under which the U.S. and Canada would purchase between $15,000,000 and $25,000,000 worth of military equipment annually from each other.

This sort of reciprocal purchase is what Canada has been pressing for since before the late James Forrestal, Mr. Johnson's predecessor, visited Ottawa in August, 1948.

The announcement represents only a partial victory for Canada but is hailed here as a victory in principle that could lead to the larger hope—a full-scale peacetime equivalent of the wartime Hyde Park agreement for full integration of military production.

It was possible that the U.S. would send most, or all, of the equipment purchased in Canada to the Atlantic Pact countries of Europe.

This would open the way for the first shipments of Canadian arms to peacetime Europe and might eventually be a boon to Canada's hopes of becoming something of an industrial arsenal.

Chairman Named In Conciliation Of I.W.A. Dispute

Chairman of the conciliation board in the I.W.A. dispute with B.C. logging and lumbering operators was named today by the Labor Relations Board.

He is D. R. Blair of Vancouver. Members of the conciliation board announced earlier are Meredith McFarlane, Vancouver nominee of the employers, and Dr. E. Forsey, Ottawa, the choice of the union.

Wage scale for loggers is the main point in dispute and the conciliators will hear the case and report their findings to the labor board.

The dispute affects eight locals of the I.W.A. and 177 employers.

BIG AIRCRAFT STAND BY FOR EVACUATION

HALIFAX (CP)—All R.C.A.F. stations equipped with Dakota and North Star aircraft have been told to be ready to participate in total evacuation of the Winnipeg population on 24-hours' notice until May 21, the Search and Rescue Centre reported here today.

The order, received by all air force stations, will only hold in the event of the rampaging Red flood waters reaching a disaster level of 32.5 feet. In this case total evacuating of Winnipeg would begin on approximately 24-hours' notice.

Under these circumstances all R.C.A.F. and available commercial Dakota and North Star aircraft would be required to assist in the evacuation.

New Threat Of Strike Facing U.S. Railways

CHICAGO (AP)—Ten mid-western and western United States railroads were threatened today with a strike Tuesday morning by 6,000 switchmen.

The walkout was called Wednesday night by the Switchmen's Union of North America (A.F.L.) in a wage dispute.

It came less than 48 hours after settlement of the crippling six-day firemen's strike against five carriers. The five are not affected by the threatened new walkout.

Union president Arthur J. Glover said in Washington the strike was set to enforce demands for 48 hours' pay for a 40-hour work week. The union, one of the five operating brotherhoods, was not affected by the 1949 settlement by presidential emergency boards giving the 40-hour work week to non-operating workers.

The strike action, Glover said, will be directed against the Chicago Great Western; Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific; Davenport, Rock Island and North-western; Denver and Rio Grande Western; Great Northern; Minneapolis and St. Louis; Northern Pacific Terminal Company of Oregon; St. Paul Union Depot Company; Sioux City Terminal Railway Company, and the Western Pacific Railroad Company.

The strike deadline was announced as 6 a.m. local time. A spokesman for the Association of Western Railways said switch tenders, yard foremen, yard brakemen and helpers would be affected by the strike.

Must Have Early Decision On Floor, Says Mulliner

A decision will have to come soon on the differences of opinion between the consulting engineer and the contractors on the matter of the arena floor, Ald. Frank G. Mulliner, chairman of the arena committee, said today following a meeting.

The committee met for 2½ hours with contractors and C. T. Hamilton consulting engineer, discussing contracts.

Permanent High Command Set For Western Defence

Twelve Members Of Atlantic Pact To Appoint Deputies, Co-ordination Chief Object

LONDON (AP)—Atlantic Pact Foreign Ministers set up a permanent high command tonight and ordered it to develop the armed forces necessary for the defence of Western Europe.

Each of the 12-member Foreign Ministers will appoint a deputy to serve on the permanent committee.

The appointments will be made "with the least possible delay" so that the deputies can proceed to appoint a full-time chairman from among their members, the Foreign Ministers announced in a communique at the close of their four-day session.

This was in line with an agreement to set up a high command to block Communism, whether it tries armed attack or "Trojan Horse" conquest.

The communique said: "A year's experience has shown that on the political side the meetings of the council have been too infrequent to permit a sufficient exchange of views on matters of common interest within the scope of the treaty."

"On the military side the strategic concept of the treaty has been adopted and a defence plan drawn up, and the corresponding estimate of the necessary forces is being established. "The next step is to put these plans into effect by taking further measures in the direction of common defence, the division of financial responsibilities and the adaptation and development of the necessary forces."

The communique said the permanent high command will execute policies and be responsible "for formulating issues requiring decisions by the member governments."

The highest priority tasks of the permanent council will be: 1. To co-ordinate the work of the North Atlantic Council's defence committee, its defence, financial and economic committee and all other agencies established under the treaty. 2. Recommend to government the steps necessary to get co-ordinated plans into operation for the defence of the North Atlantic area.

Mother, 3 Babies Die In Saanich Home Fire

Reeve Opens Fund For Fire Struck Family

Air Veteran Left Destitute By Disaster

Reeve Joseph Casey of Saanich this morning announced that a public-subscription fund has been opened at the Saanich Municipal Hall for Raymond Reid, left destitute by a fire which destroyed his 545 Agnes Street home and killed his wife and three children early today.

Contributions should be addressed to John E. Trice, municipal clerk, at the Municipal Hall, Royal Oak. Cheques should be made payable to the Corporation of the District of Saanich and made out to the "Reid Fund."

A neighbor was the first to contribute to the fund. He handed over all the money he had in his pocket, $6, to Constable John Burnett of the Saanich police.

Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, is expected to call an inquest to probe the fire tragedy.

A representative of the B.C. Fire Marshall's office was investigating the blaze today.

Millman James Dunagan, making his deliveries, was one of the first to spot the fire.

FINE COUPLE

The Reids, said by neighbors to be a "fine couple" who maintained a spotless home, are believed to have had the home for about two years.

Sgt. Eric Elwell of the Saanich police recalled that he attended at the house about 15 or 18 years ago when the owner, a man named Lineher, was fatally injured in a fall down the basement stairs.

Relatives of Reids are said to be in Toronto and Portage La Prairie. Mrs. Anne Reid, who died while trying to save her three children, has a sister, Mrs. J. Graham, in Toronto.

MISSSES PLAYMATE

Billy Campbell, two and one-half years old, a next-door neighbor playmate of the Reid boys, this morning kept asking: "Where is Jackie? . . . Where is Jackie?" He was not told.

A faulty chimney is believed to have been the cause of the blaze. Firemen said Mrs. Reid told them a fire was going in the kitchen stove to dry a batch of freshly-washed clothing when the family retired.

The heat was so terrific from the fire it blistered and cracked the kitchen hot-water boiler.

Firemen believe the Reids were located as follows in the house when the fire broke out: The three dead children in a small bedroom by themselves; the two surviving girls who retreated to the bathroom in another room with Mrs. Reid, and Mr. Reid sleeping on a couch in the parlor.

Cosmopolitan Alleged Thief Held In B.C.

VANCOUVER (UP)—A suave alleged cheque forger who is wanted in Montreal, London, Paris and Rome has been nabbed in Vancouver but his partner has so far eluded police.

Police Superintendent George Leffler said James T. Ripley was arrested today a few minutes after a phone call from Montreal was received. Ripley was arrested for Montreal police where he is wanted for forgery, Leffler said.

Ripley, an Englishman, attempted to buy $5,000 worth of diamonds from a Vancouver jeweler with a forged cheque, but was caught before the deal was completed, police said.

Conference On Asian Aid Strikes Further Snags

SYDNEY (Reuter)—A further rift is possible at the Commonwealth conference on aid to Asian countries, an authoritative source said today.

This source said that when the British delegation saw the details and the financial commitments involved—believed to total about £8,000,000 ($24,800,000) for technical aid—it became hesitant and was disinclined to proceed with the proposals put forward by Australia's External Affairs Minister, P. C. Spender.

Fisheries Minister Mayhew of Canada, when asked for his government's reaction to the reported acceptance of a compromise plan yesterday, replied: "I prefer not to express any opinion until the whole proceedings are concluded. I remind you that on Tuesday we had a sharp disagreement. On Wednesday we had a happy compromise. Who knows what tomorrow may bring forth?"

Workers Rewarded

NEW WESTMINSTER (UP)

The Bank of Montreal here has rewarded three staff members for thwarting the attempt of a would-be holdup man last month.

The bank presented $2,000 and an engraved watch to acting manager R. A. Jack seriously wounded while resisting the handit. Jack will also get a month's holiday at Qualicum with all expenses paid, and leave of absence until he is fit again.

Clerk Dorothy Pace received $400 and clerk Jean Wright $300; both were given engraved watches.

Neighbors Save Two From Blaze

By ROY THORSEN

Heroic rescue efforts of a mother, father and neighbors marked the spectacular Saanich fire that destroyed a home at 545 Agnes Street in Saanich around 4.30 this morning and took the lives of four persons.

Mrs. Anne Reid, 33-year-old mother, was burned to death in her courageous effort to save her three children who perished in the flames.

The dead children are Jackie, aged four; Brian, three, and Sharon, one year old today.

The father, Raymond Reid, 35, air force veteran and electrician at H.M.C. Dockyard, and two daughters, nine-year-old Marlene, and Janice, aged six, survived after a narrow escape in the flame-ravaged home.

House is situated on a hill on Agnes, about 200 yards from Glanford Avenue.

Mr. Reid is in Jubilee Hospital recovering from shock, cuts and burns, the result of his attempts to rescue his family in the flaming inferno. He is not seriously injured.

The surviving daughters are being taken care of by Mrs. Dorothy Campbell, next door neighbor.

MOTHER'S HEROIC ATTEMPT

According to evidence on the scene, the mother, although terribly burned, was trying to get her three children out of the house when she was overcome.

The dead children were all in the same small bedroom, the baby in a crib and her brothers in a bed.

The alarm for the fire rang in the Saanich Fire Department at 4.35. When firemen left the Douglas Street hall they could see flames shooting high into the air.

The one-story frame building with a basement was a mass of flames when firemen, led by Deputy Fire Chief Len Robbins and Capt. Hector McNeill arrived with their crews.

The father and neighbors who flocked to the scene to lend a hand resulted in the two older girls being rescued. They were in bed in a separate room.

Marlene and Janice had run into the small bathroom and shut the door to escape the fire.

FATHER SAVED DAUGHTER

He rushed outside and smashed the bathroom window and got Marlene out. Neighbors, including J. McNeill, Bill Robertson, George Spindler and his father, William, Bud Goddard and Pearl McNeill got the other child out.

Another helper in rescue attempts was James Dunagan, 4001 Carey Road, a Palm Dairies delivery man.

Cut and bleeding and his lungs full of smoke, Mr. Reid then tried to get in to help the rest of his family by climbing through the front double window.

He got halfway through when flames and smoke drove him back. He slipped and fell onto a rock below the window and was knocked out. Pearl McNeill came to his aid.

Saanich police took him to Jubilee Hospital.

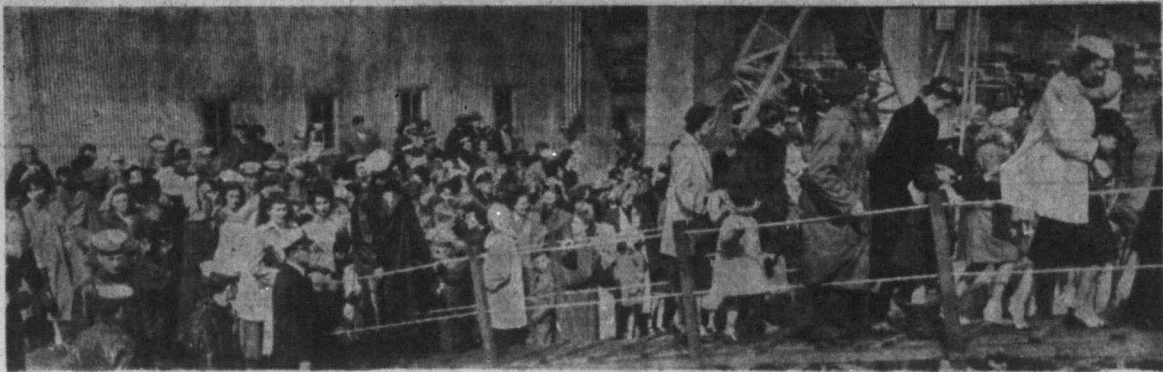

When firemen had knocked down the fire and entered the building, they found Mrs. Reid leaning over the crib with her hands on Baby Sharon.

Her legs had almost been burned off.

Jackie was behind the crib and Brian in the bed.

Furnishings were completely destroyed by the flames in the house, the metals of beds and the parlor couch twisted by the terrific heat.

Firemen described the house as a "tinder dry match box."

Hundreds Swarm Aboard Cruiser To Welcome Sailors Back Home

Part of the large crowd which greeted H.M.C.S. Ontario when she returned from Honolulu Wednesday is shown as wives, children and sweethearts crowded around gangway and swarmed over 9,000-ton cruiser, Sun, which broke through rain clouds just as vessel docked, reflected warmth of biggest welcome given ship this year.

ONE WOMAN'S DAY

By NANCY HODGES

THERAPY AND FISH

HAVING OCCASION to spend considerable time at the Royal Jubilee Hospital last week, I heard about the collection of tropical fish which the Victoria Aquarium Society has placed in the children's ward for the entertainment of the little patients.

Needless to say, the youngsters love this addition to the ward's facilities, and the antics of the strikingly colored finny friends help while away the tedium of hospital hours for them. But besides keeping the little patients amused, the movements of the fish are said to have a soothing and therapeutic effect which hastens the healing processes.

NEW EXPERIMENT

THE EXPERIMENT at the Jubilee brought back to my mind something I read in an eastern paper some months ago about this use of fish in therapy. If I remember rightly, it had been used to great advantage in a Toronto hospital, particularly among mentally-disturbed patients, who had shown marked improvement after watching the bright and beautifully-marked little fish gliding gracefully around the aquarium, hour after hour.

But it isn't only when they are in tanks that fish seem to have a therapeutic effect—nor is it only on hospital patients. After watching anglers on the breakwater and at Brentwood and other places where two or more amateur fishermen gather together, I have come to the conclusion that there's something of the sort about fish in the sea, too.

HOOK AND A LINE

HEYWOOD BROUN once put it much more convincingly thus: "I imagine that every inveterate fisherman in among the great and plagued army hand-ridden by the feeling of inferiority. Lacking the nerve to cope on equal terms with office boy, wife or head waiter, your habitual fisherman restores his self-respect every Sunday by bullying trout and having the last word with a flounder."

And Isaac Walton, that pioneer of the art of "Compleat" angling, may have meant the same thing when he said: "All that are lovers of virtue be quiet, and go a-angling."

NEVER SO GOOD
AND YOU MUST admit it is amazing how many cheerful idiots will eagerly arise at an hour whose very earliness would offend them if they had to do it in their work or business, journey miles out to some stream, lake or bay, and then sit uncomfortably all day in a boat trying to lure some poor fish into a creel.

And, from what I hear from my own friends who are bitten with the angling bug, more often than not their day's effort brings them in not even a bite—or at best, one small grilse. But do they give up hope? Not a bit of it. Just listen in to two fishermen talking and you will hear snatches of conversation about the advantages of this fly or that bait, and see their faces light up at the thought of the "big ones" they are going to get tomorrow.

VARYING BAITS
EVEN THE PROSPECT of trying a new bait or lure seems to have a therapeutic effect on the angler who is feeling a bit low in spirit. Just tell him that So-and-So has been pulling them in by the dozens with his red-tooth-brush-plus-beer-cannister, and off they go in search of red tooth brushes—the beer cans being easier to obtain!

Or tell them that someone has been raising worms with X-ray eyes or electrified tails and they will beat a path to that wormery door quicker than a public works crew. All of which goes to show that, with so many cheerful idiots falling for fishing, it is as well, perhaps, that there is something therapeutic about fish—even if the disease from which fishermen suffer appears to be incurable.

Arion Club Program Perfectly Selected

By AUDREY SLD. JOHNSON

A program that can only be described as exactly the sort of thing one likes to hear from a male chorus was presented Wednesday night in the auditorium of Victoria High School by the Arion Male Voice Choir.

Rousing numbers like "The Sword of Ferrara" and "Cossack War Song" were interspersed with the romantic "Bend Low, O Dusky Night," the sea shanty, "Shenandoah" or the reverent mood of "There Rolls the Deep." Under the baton of Frank Tupman, the choir seems to improve constantly. Fine pianissimo effects and rich chording are features of the singing. The music flows, with well shaped phrases and impressive climaxes.

One of the more exciting and well-known numbers, was Gounod's "Bye Babylon's Wave." The choir established a mood of nobility and poignancy in this, greatly assisted by Helen McVie, the accompanist, who created a vivid entrance in a long pianoforte prelude.

Guest artist was Sheila Bates, young pianist who carried off several major awards in the recent musical festival.

The Bach-Liszt Organ Prelude and Fugue in A minor was an electrifying performance and would have satisfied the most exacting Bach-lover. The pianist's clean-cut, concise yet flexible playing, her technical control and impressive command of tonal color, make her, above all, the ideal Bach performer.

Cruiser Refutes Claim Navy Never Goes To Sea

By JIM McKEACHIE

For skeptics who are inclined to scoff at peace-time activities of the Royal Canadian Navy and suggest it "never goes to sea," Capt. H. F. Pullen of the cruiser had an answer Wednesday.

Shortly after the 9,000-ton ship had docked at the government's graving dock's north jetty from a voyage to the Hawaiian Islands, Capt. Pullen showed newsmen a summary of the ship's activities since March 2. It showed "the Big O," as the cruiser has been nicknamed, has spent 51 days at sea and only 27 in harbor. She has covered 14,287 miles, 8,700 miles of the total on her most recent cruise.

SUCCESSFUL EXERCISES
The stocky skipper of the flagship of the navy's Pacific Coast fleet described exercises with a U.S. task force as highly successful. The task force, met about two-thirds of the way between San Diego and Honolulu, consisted of an aircraft carrier, two cruisers and eight destroyers.

Ontario fitted in with manoeuvres and worked as part of the force.

The welcome given Ontario as she docked Wednesday was the biggest of the year, with hundreds of wives, sweethearts, friends and families crowding the jetty to greet the 1,000 men aboard.

The ship's bugle band was playing as she warped alongside. Civilians were permitted aboard soon after Ontario docked, and sailors and soldiers were seen showing off grass skirts, cocoanuts, toy ukuleles, leis and other souvenirs of Hawaii.

A battery of customs men was on hand to clear the souvenirs as quickly as possible.

Capt. Pullen said he thought the SOS picked up by Ontario around noon on Tuesday and by the destroyer Cayuga five hours later was "bogus."

The ship sped at 31 knots "to the position from which it was thought the signal had originated, but nothing was seen. A U.S. Coast Guard cutter and planes also searched the area without success.

Chevrier Says Canada To Spend Money Over Five-Year Period

OTTAWA (BUP)—The government will spend $60,000,000 for new ships during the next five years.

Transport Minister Chevrier said Wednesday night the figure included the present naval shipbuilding program and the government replacement program that had been postponed during the war years.

City Workers Call Meeting On Wage Offer

A meeting of the city's 250 outside employees, whose 7½-cent-an-hour pay increase was awarded by an arbitration board was set aside by Mr. Justice H. S. Wood in Supreme Court Chambers, Tuesday, will be held Friday night, Alex Murray, business agent for the Civic Employees' Protective Association, Local 50, said today.

It is believed they will discuss a previous city offer of 6 cents an hour increase.

W. H. M. Haldane, counsel for the city, assured Mr. Justice Wood that a 6-cent increase was in the city's budget and would be paid, retroactive to Jan. 1, if accepted by the outside workers.

Motorist Gets Knocked Out, Wallet Stolen

Ronald H. Stephens, 24, 881 Sevenoaks Road, was driving along Saanich Road at 11 p.m. Wednesday night when he was flagged down by a "stranded" motorist who asked him for a tow.

Stephens, anxious to help out a fellow in trouble, said sure. When he got out of his car and went to the trunk to get his tow rope, however, he was struck over the head.

When he recovered he found the "stranded" motorist gone and his wallet containing $110 missing from his pocket. Stephens reported the matter to Saanich police who conveyed him to Royal Jubilee Hospital for treatment to his head injury.

Taps Flow At Winnipeg But Result Horror

WINNIPEG (CP)—A Winnipegger returning to his flood-stricken home city gets the shock of his life when he turns on the faucet.

Something's happened to the clear, sparkling Shoal Lake water that once gushed from the tap!

The stuff that comes forth nowadays, when there is still threat of flood-borne typhoid fever, is enough to make any true native swear off it for the duration of his stay.

Through 80 miles of rocks, trees and prairie, Winnipeg's drinking water is drawn from Shoal Lake on the Manitoba-Ontario boundary. In B.F. (before flood) days, it was a limpid fluid that slid easily down the most tender throat. Now...

As a precautionary measure while the city literally fights for its existence against the flooding Red River, Winnipeg's water has been heavily chlorinated. It's safe, it can be drunk without boiling—but it's awful!

British Tory Asks House To Outlaw Reds

LONDON (AP)—Sir Waldron Smithers today asked the government to outlaw the Communist Party.

Peace among the powers is unattainable unless as a first step the government takes immediate action "to do so," the Conservative member for Orington said in a motion submitted for debate in the House of Commons.

Bills to outlaw Communism are pending in Australia and South Africa.

Sir Waldron is an ardently anti-Communist, right-wing legislator who recently sponsored a public petition urging the government to fire Defence Minister Emanuel Shinwell and War Minister John Strachey because of their leftist pasts.

His motion today made a similar request, without naming any ministers.

The motion would be debated in the Commons only if the government should agree to make time for it.

Communists have holds on several important trade unions, but they failed to elect a single member of Parliament in the Feb. 23 election. They polled only 91,746 votes.

Unanimous Voice Sought For Island Trade Boards

The Nanaimo Chamber of Commerce will seek at the forthcoming annual meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Vancouver Island to win support to a resolution asking all chamber affiliates to adhere fully to adopted policies of the association.

Purpose of the resolution, according to the sponsoring chamber, is to keep the association's ranks closed to dissension and to present an organized united front for the furtherance and attainment of objectives agreed upon in convention.

City Observer Describes Flood Havoc In Manitoba

The entire country around Winnipeg is saturated with water as if it had been pelted for two or three days by torrential rain.

This description of the flood-battered prairie city was given Wednesday by W. H. Warren, parks administrator who returned to Victoria after a flying trip to Ottawa.

"It is hard to imagine the terrific damage that has been done," he said. "You can hardly see a square acre in the Greater Winnipeg area that has not a great circle of water on it."

"Farmlands are half under water. They say the area in Greater Winnipeg flooded is larger than Victoria."

He told of refugees streaming to Toronto and said all Winnipeg-bound plane passengers from the east were discouraged at Toronto from continuing west. Shipments of sandbags and electric pumps were on most planes going into Winnipeg.

The fact that electric lights are still going in the downtown and residential sections, was a tribute to the hydro system, Mr. Warren felt. He said it must be very well installed. The flood battlers are well-organized, he said.

Big Refunding Dominion Loan Over Top

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Abbott today announced that the $745,000,000 record refunding loan launched Monday has been "heavily oversubscribed." The books were closed at 9.01 a.m. EDT today.

He also announced that the issue, biggest of its kind in government history, has been allotted as follows: $350,000,000 will be in 2 1/2 per cent 18-year bonds and $395,000,000 in 2 per cent 4 1/2-year bonds.

Mr. Abbott said the government was "gratified" that investors had responded "so eagerly" to the offering. This response was "substantial evidence of confidence in the future of the country."

Orders for the bonds, the revenue of which will go towards retirement of two outstanding issues bearing higher interest rates, had been taken by investment dealers and banks Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Bank of Canada was the government's agency in the campaign and the minister said the bank will advise the investment dealers and banks tonight as to the proportion of their orders that will be filled.

Transit Strike Slows 500,000 In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Half a million commuters in the Pittsburgh district were forced to use emergency transportation today in an A.F.L. bus drivers' strike against five motor coach companies.

A sixth firm was given "a day's grace" and allowed to continue operations when it agreed to continue bargaining talks for wage increases for its 17 drivers.

The five companies employing 783 drivers were the Brentwood Motor Coach Co. and the Oriole Motor Coach Co., in the South Hills district of Pittsburgh; Debold Transit, serving Homestead and Munhall; West Side Transit, serving Charleroi, Monessen and Belle Vernon; and Penn Transit, serving Greensburg, Kittanning, New Kensington and Leechburg.

The union, the A.F.L. Amalgamated Street Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees, previously called a strike against Harmony Short Lines, which serves 150,000 residents in the Allegheny Valley, May 2. That walkout still is in progress.

STILL SOME LOCKERS AVAILABLE

Walter Lippmann

Should the conversations of Trygve Lie open the way to pacific settlement of existing differences and to the discovery of a satisfactory arrangement by which the so-called East and West could live amicably together, the arms race would be unnecessary. Until that possibility becomes more of an actuality, however, security dictates measures of military preparedness which cannot be foregone. Any developments which stimulate industrial productivity—even if it be only as an adjunct of defence—carry with them a more sustained benefit. They retain their value in peace or in war.

Word Of Appreciation

Behind that expression, too, lies a very considerable body of public opinion. The gratitude and affection stirred by such things as Canadian food parcels and financial aid are being joined by respect for the more formal position taken by Canada in international affairs. Our people, we believe, should keep themselves posted on such matters, should know what they are doing—and it must be admitted Canadians do not keep themselves as well informed as they might—but when it comes to advertisement, such statements as that of The Times can do with much better grace than bragging by the nation concerned.

BANKRUPTCY

Winnipeg Free Press

The bankruptcy of an opposition a tragedy in our parliamentary system only less than the bankruptcy of a government. A parliamentary democracy needs a competent critic in Parliament and an alternative government, constantly available at election times. Things Canada has lacked since 1935, our whole parliamentary system has been grievously weakened as a result.

A political cartoon by Charles M. Schuchman. Two men, one in a suit and one in a Native American tunic, hold signs that say "STATEHOOD FOR ALASKA" and "STATEHOOD FOR HAWAII". They are standing in a dark forest where the tree trunks are labeled "EFFICIENCY", "PRO-CRISTIANIZATION", and "PETTY POLITICS". A large tree trunk on the left is labeled "PROMISES". The cartoon is signed "Schuchman" in the bottom right corner.

When the speaker ventured the opinion, speaking of licensed premises, that "there will be at least 20 of them," was really posing as an arbiter of such matters. Upon what authority does he make this statement? It would be interesting to hear the comments of the officials concerned with the granting of licenses upon that point. Somehow, gathered a thread of assurance through out those statements that the plebeian

Suspensions of proselytism which prevailed at first have long since disappeared. Bigotry was attacked by Father Tompkins' statement (widely quoted since), that "There's no Catholic Protestant way to catch a lobster."

The Antigonish challenge to outmoded pessimism speaks louder than words against the religious intolerance which still darkens the outlook of some people who think that Canada is asleep.

It's time to be proud of Canada and the achievements of our fellow Canadians.

"It looks," said the Elevator Man, "though toys are going to get more expensive as they keep up science and industry. A doll's these days costs about as much real one used to. Dolls cost nearly as much as babies. Toy cars, furniture sets put families in debt just like adult models do. Sports equipment is government financing. They say the first atomic bomb cost the U.S. two billion dollars. Let's hope Junior's airplane will run a little cheaper. Because as usual, he will hand the bill to who will have to foot it."

Six-Footers Find Life Difficult In World Of Standardized Sizes

By HUMPHRY DAVY
You can thank your lucky stars that you are not a six-footer in this modern age geared to mass produce standard-size commodities.

After attending a meeting Wednesday at the Y.M.C.A. called to organize a club for tall people in Victoria, I felt quite thankful I was five feet nine or thereabouts. I discovered the many inconveniences outweighed the advantages.

The newly-formed club, the first of its kind in Victoria, was attended by men and women ranging in height from five feet ten to six feet eight. The need for such a club was evident as some people came from as far as Sidney to attend the meeting.

Bob Morrison, Y.M.C.A. program director, explained the object of the club was mainly to provide entertainment for the tall of Victoria and to solve some of their common problems. Meetings would be held every Tuesday night at eight.

HONORARY MEMBERS

Bob, who is six feet one, said the club was open to any woman over five feet ten and men six feet one and over. Wives or husbands of members who fell short of the required height would be made honorary members.

The member responsible for forming the club was Guy Roxby, a student at the University of British Columbia, and a former member of the Tip Top Club of Vancouver which is entirely composed of six-footers.

"We can now meet people of our own size," he said with enthusiasm. "We can also try to solve some of our clothing problems."

Guy explained that they could now all enjoy dancing and other forms of entertainment without feeling too conspicuous.

NO FUN DANCING

"It is not fun dancing with a partner who is much shorter than you are," he commented. "How would you like to be always looking down on somebody's head?"

He said one of the main problems tall people were faced with was with regard to clothing. "We run into trouble when we try to find the right size shoes or shirts," he pointed out. "Most tall people have to buy tailored suits."

As for operating a car, Guy says he has some difficulty driving some cars. His legs often get entangled in the pedals and he frequently bumps his head on the roof.

Guy relates that his father was as tall as he was, and it was impossible for the two of them to drive in the same car in comfort.

Tallest man at the meeting was six-foot eight Tom Dowsell, a former police officer. His wife is five-foot ten and a half.

ATTRACTIVE COUPLE

Tom and his wife make an attractive couple. They met at a dance and were pleased with each other's height and got married.

To be frank, I was not impressed with the six-foot males,

Felt Slightly Out Of Place

Though feeling slightly out of place among Victoria's six-footers, Archie McKinnon, Y.M.C.A. physical director, agreed to pose with two members of newly-formed club for tall people. Miss L. M. Hallors, second tallest woman in the club, is 5 feet 11½ inches. Guy Roxby, president, 6 feet 3½ inches.

because the Times has a goodly number of them. They are the rule rather than the exception in the editorial department. But I must admit I felt conspicuously small in the presence of the women. I found myself for once looking up to them and they looking down at me. I had a tendency of always wanting to stand up on my toes when speaking to them.

The tallest woman was Thelma Cooper, 2532 Garden Street. She is a stenographer and is six feet tall.

Miss Cooper says because of her height her desk at her office has been raised.

"A tall woman has a lot of trouble finding the right size shoes, especially in Canada," she said. She usually dislikes dancing with a person shorter than she is because she can't see him. Then the tall and the short usually step on each other's toes.

ALWAYS IN DANGER

Miss Cooper went on to say that tall people were always in danger of walking into store awnings. "But we are all right when we go to see a parade," she added. "We can see over the heads of everybody."

A cheerful group of people with a good sense of humor, the members planned a canoe trip. "We better get a war canoe," said Mr. Roxby. "If we tip over we will be able to walk ashore."

The members have yet to choose a name for their club. Some of the suggestions included

"Tip Top, Timberliners, Stratosphere, and High Hatters." A proposed motto for the club was: "We are still growing."

The members chose Mr. Roxby as their president, Tom Dowsell, vice-president, and Elenor Miller, secretary-treasurer.

Among those present were Robert Noel, Lorna Hallors, Kay Burnett, Patsy Smith, Tommie Miller, Davie Smart, Archie Miller, Chas. W. Griffiths, Marjan Granham, Jeanne Lidgate and Phyllis Lott.

Baseball Group Wants To Play At Windsor Park

Oak Bay Council Wednesday night decided to refer a further request from the Victoria Minor Baseball Association regarding the use of Windsor Park as a playing field to the parks committee.

Councillor J. V. Johnson said he had watched baseball games at Windsor Park for 50 years and saw no reason why the youngsters should be barred from playing there this season.

Reeve Percy A. Gibbs also stated he saw no reason why games could not be played at Windsor Park.

Councillors proposed the present backstop be raised in height in order to comply with complaints of foul balls being hit into adjacent properties.

THE HOME GARDEN

Poisoned Baits Knock Out Earwigs Quickly

By JACK G. BEASTALL

Earwigs seem to be the home gardener's big problem right now.

Because they are not common to every province in Canada, newcomers to this district find it difficult to determine the cause of damaged plants.

Poisoned apple pomace baits have been the standby for many years with varying degrees of success.

Today we have a far superior bait consisting of bran, fish oil, and sodium fluoride or sodium fluosilicate. The new chlordane sprays have also proved effective.

The fish oil bait is now being put up in packages of convenient size for the home gardener by a local firm. Because freshness is of prime importance, each mix is only sufficient to cover sales for two weeks.

FORMULA

Those having large areas to protect may mix their own bait from the formula released by the Provincial Department of Entomology.

The quantities are: bran, 100 lbs.; fish oil, 2½ galls.; sodium fluoride (or fluosilicate), 15 lbs. These quantities may be reduced proportionately.

The bran and poison are mixed dry until each flake appears covered with the white powder. The oil is added and stirred in until thoroughly absorbed. By standing the container in a warm place for two to four hours, and stirring every 30 minutes, the oil will permeate all the bran.

The bait must be scattered consistently where earwigs congregate, from May until September, preferably on warm evenings.

NO MENACE TO PETS

Many gardeners question the effect on house pets and birds. In the four years I have used it, neither the cat, dog, nor birds, have been attracted, although, as a precautionary measure, the chicken are not let out when the bait is spread.

When mixing, remember you are handling a poison. Wash exposed skin surfaces thoroughly, and protect nose and throat from the poison dust.

Israeli Halt British Plane

TEL AVIV, Israel (Reuter)—Israeli fighter planes, firing warning shots, forced an R.A.F. Sunderland flying boat to come down in the sea off Tel Aviv harbor Wednesday because it had crossed Israeli territory without authority.

But the aircraft and its crew were released and allowed to fly on to Egypt after interrogation here by Israeli officers in the presence of the British air attaché, Anthony O'Neill.

An Israeli spokesman said the Sunderland's captain had admitted crossing Israeli territory "by navigational error."

Salt Spring Seeks Better Ferry Run

Members of Salt Spring Island's Chamber of Commerce are not satisfied with existing road and ferry service.

They say present facilities for transporting goods and passengers do not meet demands of island residents and the many people who visit there.

The Salt Spring Island chamber will seek at the forthcoming meeting of the Associated Chambers of Vancouver Island to have the association ask the provincial government "to keep under consideration the changing situation and to effect such improvements as will meet the growing demand."

Canada Moving Toward New Trade With Japan

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada is slowly evolving a pattern of trade with Japan and western Germany that eventually may mean a return to old, prewar normality.

However, trade officials say it will be a long time before the final steps are taken to restore complete relations with the two countries, including the appointment to Canada of trade commissioners from the wartime enemies.

The officials believe establishment of German trade commissioners in the United Kingdom and the United States may be the outgrowth of the diplomatic talks among the Big Three foreign ministers now proceeding in London.

Once these trade services in the major countries are restored and Germany obtains sufficient governmental manpower, she may take steps to appoint a commissioner to Canada. It is believed she may do so long before Japan gets a similar diplomatic go-ahead signal.

Officials indicate that the establishment of normal trade relations with West Germany is more urgently required than in the case of Japan. Japan's big suppliers are the United States and countries in the Orient. There appears to be little immediate hope that Canada can become a big supplier of goods to that country.

DOLLARS NEEDED

However, Germany's case is different, with giant steel mills and coal mines reopening, ability to earn dollars particularly in sales of steel to Canada is growing. Canada recently completed a deal to buy a big supply of tools from that area.

Germany's need of Canadian agricultural products also is expanding. With rich, fertile lands in East Germany cut off by the Iron Curtain, West Germany has great need of wheat, meat and dairy products—items that Canada can supply.

Call Tenders For Crown Forest Land Port Alberni Chamber Requests

Delegates from Port Alberni who attend the annual meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Vancouver Island, June 14, at Sidney will attempt to steer through a resolution, calling for sale by tender of provincial Crown forest land.

The Port Alberni chamber has drafted a resolution protesting that the government owns 93 per cent of all forest land in the province.

The chamber would ask that Crown forest land not at present bearing merchantable timber be made available for purchase by people of the province, subject to the same tax rates as imposed upon crop producing land. The chamber would hold private owners responsible for proper management, care and protection of the land and its yield potential.

"Private ownership of land is one of the bulwarks of the democratic state," the Port Alberni chamber contends.

The chamber makes much of forest methods adopted by the democratic countries of western Europe. In France, it says, only 37 per cent of forest land is publicly owned. Finland has retained under government control only 36 per cent; Denmark and Sweden, 24 per cent; Great Britain, 16 per cent, and Norway, 15 per cent.

In the U.S., it says, 27 per cent of forest land is under public ownership.

Ex-Liquor Board Head Dies At 88

VANCOUVER (CP) — Hugh Davidson, former B.C. liquor commissioner, died in hospital here Wednesday. He was 88.

Mr. Davidson arrived in Vancouver in 1889. He homesteaded in the Langley district, operated a store at Murrayville and later was associated with the B.C. Fish and Company Ltd., pioneer shipper and wholesale distributors in Victoria.

He was appointed head of the B.C. Liquor Control Board in 1925 and retired five years later to become chairman of the B.C. Milk Board until 1937, when he moved to Fort Langley.

Funeral services will be held here Friday.

PREMIER EXPECTS FRASER DIKES WILL HOLD UP

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP) — An optimistic note on the possibility of a Fraser River flood this year was sounded by Premier Byron Johnson here Wednesday night.

Premier Johnson cited Trade and Commerce Minister Howe's opinion that it is doubtful if a flood is possible this year.

"I'm a little more cautious," he said. "It is foolish to say any dikes are foolproof, but I am convinced the dikes will hold."

The Premier said 10-ton trucks may safely be driven along the 250 miles of dikes constructed, and "that is more than you could do in 1948."

Saanich Wants School Boards To Share Sales Tax

Saanich Chamber of Commerce is anxious to have the provincial government pass regulations making it mandatory for municipal councils to place at least half of what they receive from 3 per cent sales tax revenue to the credit of school boards within their districts.

Councils at the present time receive one-third of the proceeds from the sales tax. It has been stated by cabinet ministers part of the funds so transferred should be used for educational purposes.

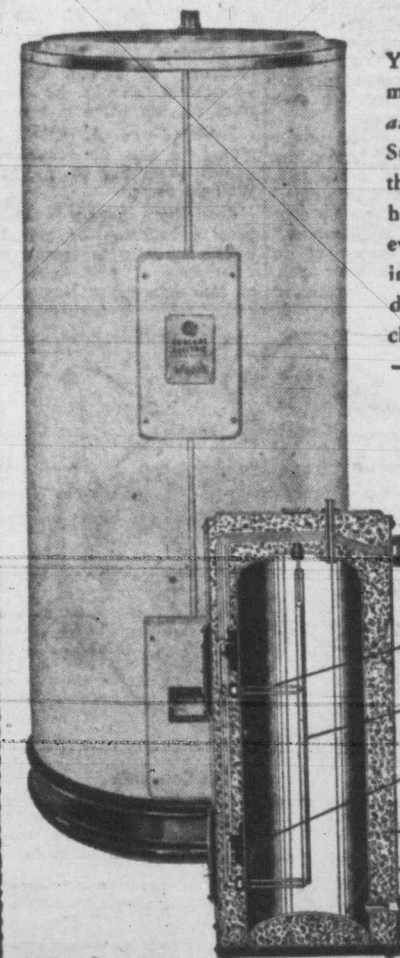

The Saanich Chamber claims, "A great number of municipalities receiving such funds have placed them in general revenue, and withheld any assistance to the school districts within the district, using such funds solely for municipal purposes, thereby giving no relief to school districts."

Let Us All Be Builders of
A GREATER VICTORIA
This Is Your Opportunity!

What the plebiscite will do for Victoria, when passed on May 30th, will be to assure all of the people that our city will be equipped with first class hotels to satisfy the tourist demands.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars will be expended on city centre Victoria hotels for reconstruction and refurbishing to bring them up to modern tourist traffic standards. This means a face-lifting and a more imposing front to the city's business district.

Contractors and workers, lumber and building material concerns, furniture manufacturers, and wholesale and retail firms will all greatly profit from hotel improvements. Many people will find permanent employment from new jobs created with a compensating reduction in unemployment in Victoria city.

For the information of those people who concern themselves over the hotelmen's greed, as they say, for profits from the sale of beer by the glass: the hotelmen have no idea what those profits will be, but one thing they are assured of is that they will be confronted with a huge capital outlay, plus an increased overhead, which will not be returned to them for years to come. This is the other side of the picture, known to the hotelmen, but unknown and not fully realized by opponents of the plebiscite.

At last, after many years, the citizens of Victoria, all of them, have their opportunity to emerge from bondage, throw off the yoke and become builders of a greater Victoria.

Vote "YES" • Vote "YES" • Vote "YES"

Reparations Cut

LONDON (AP)—Poland has joined Russia in cutting East German war reparations by half. A Tass news agency dispatch Wednesday did not give the amount of reparations involved. Russia announced Monday that she would halve reparations she

Board Cuts Time Lost In Labor Strikes

The B.C. Labor Relations Board claims its procedure reduced time-loss through strikes in industry last year to the lowest figure since 1945.

There were eight strikes in 1949 involving 15 employers and 625 employees, the board recalls in its annual report now available.

These strikes caused a time-loss of 14,772 man-days.

Losses from strikes commencing in 1948, but terminated in the following year, brought the man-day loss to 15,592.

"In terms of time-loss, the total for the year is the smallest since 1945," the report states. "If the time loss is compared as a percentage of the estimated total working-time of wage and salary earnings, the low figure for the year under review (0.034) has not been equaled since 1941."

The eight strikes referred to do not include one in the fishing industry of 16,100 man-days because it was not within the jurisdiction of the board.

During 1949 the board dealt with 1,300 cases. There were 757 applications by unions for certification to bargain for employees of which 594 were granted, 95 rejected and 68 withdrawn. Thirty-nine others were being dealt with at the end of the year.

In addition there were 119 strike votes supervised by the board and 80 representation votes conducted. 246 conciliation officers named, 97 conciliation boards appointed, seven permissions to prosecute granted, and 12 grievance procedures provided.

The 246 references to conciliation officers resulted in settlement of 108 disputes.

On the application by unions for certification, the number granted last year was 76 below the 1948 total of 670.

Trades, Labor President Rules Out 'Bar Government Officials' Vote

Percy R. Bengough, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, has ruled out of order a resolution submitted by local 1538, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, to the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council, intended to bar from council activities "officials of government boards."

President Bengough, in a letter read at a meeting of the local council Wednesday night, declared the carpenters' resolution was definitely outside the constitution of the Trades and Labor Congress.

"The resolution, as submitted, cannot be accepted, and I so rule," he wrote.

He went on: "We seek labor representation on all government boards. Can we condemn them once we are successful in their appointment and just where would such procedure start and finish?"

Answering a charge by the carpenters that government board officials, by being council delegates, would be called upon to serve two masters, the congress chief continued:

"Delegates attend councils from friendly and hostile employers and from friendly and hostile governments. However, as delegates, they do not represent the opinions of their employers and are not serving two masters."

"The council is not the master of a delegate and delegates are expected to represent the wishes of the organization that send them as a delegate."

The carpenters' union two weeks ago threatened to withdraw delegates from the council and to withhold payment of per capita-tax if the council did not pass its motion.

In view of President Bengough's letter, the union will reconsider its stand at its next regular meeting.

COUNCIL APPROVES

Oak Bay Council Wednesday night approved the request from Hon. Brooke Claxton, Minister of National Defence, whereby employees in the navy, army and air force reserve ranks will be allowed permission to attend annual training camps during the summer months.

Juveniles In Vancouver Among Narcotics Users

VANCOUVER (CP)—Senior police officials disclosed narcotic activity among juveniles has hit "major crime proportions" in Vancouver.

One 14-year-old girl is believed the youngest Canadian to face a "possession of narcotics" charge. Police say an all-out drive has opened to ferret out "adult peddlers" believed supplying forbidden drugs to youngsters.

A veteran R.C.M.P. narcotics investigator said that "for the first time in B.C. history it has become necessary to start laying drug charges against children."

Only one group of arrests has been made since the juvenile problem emerged a few days ago, but information gathered by narcotics investigators has indicated many more juveniles are involved.

Point System For Track Meet Unfair

By BILL WALKER

With the annual interhigh school track and field championships scheduled for Macdonald Park Friday afternoon—an interesting point concerning the point system in use at the meet is brought to mind.

In the three-year history of the annual affair Victoria High School has won the Roy Jones Memorial Trophy twice and Oak Bay has taken the honor once.

It is interesting to note that the year Oak Bay won the aggregate championship the point system was for the first three placings only, and points were awarded on a basis of three, two and one for such order of finish.

Subsequently, the system was changed with points awarded to the first six finishers in each event and since that time Victoria High School with a much larger enrolment than other schools has been unbeatable.

Under the present system points are given on a five, three, two, one and one-half, one, and one-half basis.

It stands to reason that it is grossly unfair to the smaller schools, considering the fact that Vic High has an enrolment of almost three times that of any of the other schools.

POINT PROVEN

In 1949 Oak Bay proved to have the best High School track team in British Columbia but in competition against Victoria High its athletes couldn't win.

Moose Hand Adverts Third Straight Loss

Senior clubs in the Women's Softball League are finding the going far from easy against their junior rivals.

Last night the Moose junior nine handed Adverts their third straight defeat and pushed the senior club into the league cellar. The 9 to 2 win was the first of the season for Moose as against two defeats.

Doris Elander and Jean Brown shared the mound duties but the winners were given airtight support.

Moose scored two runs in the first inning, a pair in the fourth, another brace in the fifth and three in the sixth. Single tallies in the fourth and sixth accounted for Adverts scoring.

Tonight Forrester will meet Sidney at Sidney and Moose will bid for their second win against Allsorts at lower Central.

MAJOR BALL CLUBS REDUCE

New York Giants Wind Up Late Shuffle With Four Third-Sackers

NEW YORK (AP)—Major league baseball clubs girded for the long summer run today after stripping down to regular playing weight—the 25-man limit.

Last-hour manoeuvres to beat the midnight deadline saw a number of significant roster changes, none quite as unique as that of New York Giants.

Leo Durocher's Polo Grounders were left with four third basemen and a pair of inexperienced catchers.

In a three-way shuffle, the Giants bought third baseman Johnny Jorgensen from Brooklyn Dodgers and sold veteran catcher Ray Mueller to Pittsburgh Pirates. Other Giant third basemen on hand are Jack Lohrke, Bill Rigney and Hank Thompson.

Behind the hat Durocher was left with West Thurmond and Sam Calderone, neither a seasoned performer.

No price was disclosed in the Jorgensen deal. To make room for him, the Giants sold the 38-year-old Mueller to the Pirates for "more than the $10,000 waiver price."

The Pirates got down by optioning pitcher John McCall to their Indianapolis farm club in the American Association.

The day's most feverish activity took place in the front office of Cleveland Indians, who first announced that southpaw pitcher Sam Zolack was being sent to San Diego and then, a few hours later, changed their mind.

SEND TWO INFELDERS

The Indians, figuring they'd better keep their pitching staff intact, decided instead to ship infielder Johnny Berardino to the Coast League club on 24-hour option. Another infielder, first baseman Herb Conyers, was sent along on the same terms.

Here are the other last day changes:

New York Giants—Asked waivers on outfielder Mike McCormick.

St. Louis Cardinals—Sent outfielder Johnny Blatnik to Houston on 24-hour recall.

Chicago Cubs—Optioned catcher Carl Sawatski to Nashville on 24-hour recall.

Cincinnati Reds—Sent pitcher Kent Peterson to Syracuse of the International League.

St. Louis Browns—Gave third baseman Frank Gustine his unconditional release.

Detroit Tigers—Sold first baseman Paul Campbell to Toledo for an unannounced sum.

Boston, Washington, Philadelphia, New York and Chicago in the American League and Boston and Philadelphia in the National got down to the limit with earlier moves.

Victorian Wins Golf

Carding a net 71 yesterday at the Colwood Club, R. Shaw of this city captured the men's wear golf tournament which attracted entries from the mainland. Shaw, right, receives handsome Forsyth trophy from Dan McLaren, Vancouver.

Wild Pitch Gives Vancouver Win And Sixth Spot; Athletics Idle

A wild pitch by Spokane's Johnny Conant with the bases loaded in the 10th inning gave Vancouver a 5 to 4 victory over the Indians last night in the Western International League's only contest.

The victory hoisted the Caps into sixth place with the vanquished Indians dropping to seventh.

A variety of weather halted the night's other scheduled contests. Rain stymied Yakima at Tacoma, a wind and dust storm canceled Victoria's appearance at Tri-City and cold weather blocked the Salem-at-Wenatchee fracas. Victoria and Tri-City billed a twin feature tonight.

Conant took over the Spokane mound duties from Ward Rocky after the Indians rallied in the ninth for four runs to square the count. A single by Jimmy Robinson and two walks promptly put him in trouble. With the count 2-2 on Vancouver's pinch-hitting manager Bill Brenner, the Spokane right-hander unleashed a low wide pitch that hit the dirt. Robinson raced home easily.

Wilson Pitches Another Shutout For Rainiers

Seattle manager Paul Richards is mighty happy that he brought pitcher Jim Wilson along with him from Buffalo.

Wilson, 28-year-old right-hander, racked up another shutout, 1 to 0, against Sacramento last night and ran his string of scoreless innings to 30. That's within two complete games of the Coast League record of 46 set by Bill Tozer, Los Angeles, in 1905.

San Diego stretched its league lead to three full games, defeating Portland, 2 to 1, while Hollywood fell again before Oakland, 7 to 6. Los Angeles made it two straight over San Francisco, 5 to 2.

Seattle's victory pulled the scrapping Rainiers to within a half-game of seventh place. Another win tonight would boost them out of the cellar and topple Sacramento therein.

San Diego's Lefty Al Olsen notched his seventh win against two losses with a five-hitter—on a homer by Mickey Rocco. But the Padres countered with successive boundary blasts by Harry Simpson and Jack Graham in the fourth to win.

ONSLOW FINED FOR FRACAS

CHICAGO (AP)—Jack Omslow, Chicago White Sox manager, received word today from Will Harridge, American League president, that he has been fined $50 for his run-in with umpire Bill McKinley during Sunday's first game of a double-header in Cleveland.

At the same time Harridge said he will disregard Cleveland's protest of the Chicago team's 3 to 2 victory in this game.

of 300 fans had something to cheer about. When Spokane scored in the ninth inning, it broke a string of 24 scoreless innings.

Vancouver's Bob Snyder kept the Indians in check until the fifth when Spokane scored its first run. Joe Rossi smacked a double with the bases loaded to send home two of the four runs.

Rocky, the former Washington State College star, was tagged for 17 hits in nine innings but was able to keep things somewhat in hand.

Following the game Ferguson said he would alter his line-up for Friday's game against Burrards on the mainland.

Just who would be dropped Ferguson would not say but he did announce that John "Red" McMillan and Jim McKeachie would be in uniform for the game on the mainland. Both are forwards.

Ferguson was the pick of the local team, with Sage and Andrews running close seconds. Some of Andrews' saves bordered on the sensational, while Sage was the driving force behind the attack.

For Burrards the most dangerous man on the floor was Harry Buchanan. He scored two goals and assisted on three

Hockey Groups Want No Part Of Olympic Rule

TORONTO (CP)—The International Ice Hockey Federation and the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association thumbed its nose in the direction of the International Olympic Committee today. It's old stuff.

"It all sprung from decision of I.O.C. at its Copenhagen, Denmark, meeting that it would give hockey another chance in the 1952 Oslo winter games—with a couple of 'ifs' attached. It wanted assurance hockey is 'strictly amateur' and also that Dr. Fritz Kraatz of Switzerland, European president of the I.I.H.F. must not attend negotiations.

It didn't take hockey officials long to give the I.O.C. an answer.

At Edmonton, Dr. George Hardy, president of the I.I.H.F., retorted "there will be no negotiations" under these terms. From Boston, Walter Brown, vice-president of the Amateur Hockey Association of the U.S., said he would go by Dr. Hardy's decision.

DUDLEY OUTSPOKEN

George Dudley of Midland, Ont., secretary-manager of the C.A.H.A. and North American secretary of the I.I.H.F. was somewhat outspoken when he said in 1948 the I.O.C. was dictatorial, domineering and undemocratic and this latest affront doesn't change my mind," he said in a telephone interview from his home. "We certainly will not repudiate Dr. Kraatz. If he isn't included

Shamrocks Win Friends In Defeat

McKeachie, McMillan To Join Club Friday

If last night's lacrosse game at the Memorial Arena was the acid test for Victoria Shamrocks, then the local intercity league club is here to stay.

The Shamrocks lost no friends among the better than 2,500 customers as they gave the Canadian champion Burrard Westerns a terrific battle before going down to a heartbreaking 16 to 14 overtime defeat.

"The game could have gone either way," coach Arnie Ferguson of the locals said afterwards. "They got that big goal in the overtime and that was it."

Shamrocks, who had trailed through most of the game, being on the short end of a 5 to 2 count at the end of the first period, behind 6 to 5 at the half and 9 to 6 at the three-quarter, threw their best punches in the final period.

FIVE STRAIGHT GOALS

After Roddy McLeod had boosted Burrards into a 10 to 6 margin after 27 seconds of the frame, Shamrocks caught fire. Defenceman Len Scott started a five-goal parade with a bullet shot from well out at 1:12.

Then within the space of two minutes and 34 seconds the Shamrocks bewildered the Burrards with a driving attack that was good for four goals and an 11 to 10 lead. Darrell Popham, Ferguson, Duff McCaghey and Art Green were the marksmen.

Recovering from this onslaught Burrards came right back and regained the lead with McLeod beating big Bill Andrews twice in the matter of 12 seconds.

Vic Sage, who incidentally was one of the shining lights for the Shamrocks, fired home the tying marker at 9:01 and Norm Coates gave his club a 13 to 12 edge with little more than two minutes left.

Coates was injured about half a minute later and while he was limping from the floor Elmer Buchanan romped in unmoleted on Andrews to send the game into overtime.

In the 10-minute extra session Roy Cavillin gave Burrards a 14 to 13 lead but Sage knotted the count for the Shamrocks with a free shot at the 4:53 mark.

Left unchecked in front of the goal Ernie Smith scored the winner for Burrards at 8:14. Jim Anderson made it certain with nine seconds remaining.

CHANGES TEAM

Following the game Ferguson said he would alter his line-up for Friday's game against Burrards on the mainland.

Just who would be dropped Ferguson would not say but he did announce that John "Red" McMillan and Jim McKeachie would be in uniform for the game on the mainland. Both are forwards.

Ferguson was the pick of the local team, with Sage and Andrews running close seconds. Some of Andrews' saves bordered on the sensational, while Sage was the driving force behind the attack.

For Burrards the most dangerous man on the floor was Harry Buchanan. He scored two goals and assisted on three

MAJOR LEAGUE HEADS AGREE GAMES DRAG

Too Many Walks Main Reason For Lengthy Contests

NEW YORK (AP)—Presidents of the two major leagues today agreed with Hank Greenberg that baseball games are running too long but said they knew of no official remedy.

"The reason games are so slow is that present-day pitchers are wild and throw a lot of balls," said the National League's Ford Frick. "We can't legislate against that."

Will Harridge, head man of the American League, said in Chicago: "The shortening of games is mainly up to the pitchers and players themselves."

Both executives acknowledged that Greenberg's speed-up program has merit and that there is definite need of a return to the "two-hour ball game."

Greenberg, general manager of Cleveland Indians, suggested a four-point speed-up plan this week in an interview.

The points were:

1. Umpires should urge players to hustle to positions between innings.
2. The pitcher should be required to wait in the "on deck" circle instead of the dugout for his time at bat.
3. Some better method, probably mechanical, should be found to speed the relief pitcher's trip from bullpen to mound.
4. The pitcher should go to the mound immediately when his side is retired.

UMPIRES HAVE ORDERS

Harridge said that, as for point No. 1, umpires always have been directed to keep the pace going "but they can't hurry all players whose first reaction is to ask: 'Where's the fire?'"

He added that the American League had tried a couple of years ago to make a pitcher stay "on deck" at his batting turn but managers complained and the rule was rescinded.

The other points, he said, are "purely for club or manager supervision."

Major league games so far this year have averaged around 2 1/2 hours.

SEATTLE (AP)—The University of Washington lightweight crew Wednesday concluded an unbeaten season as it swept to a six-length triumph over the University of British Columbia on a 2,000-meter course.

The British Columbians won the four-oar pickleboat race by a half-length.

FROM THE FANSTAND

By PETE SALLAWAY, Times Sports Editor

Remarks in this column by a correspondent, in which the B.C. Football Commission was charged with profiteering by setting a $2 admission to watch the touring English Football Association eleven in action here on June 1, has drawn an interesting reply from one of the members of the local committee in charge of the exhibition. "The accusation is not born out by the facts," he writes. "The profits, if any, arising out of this match are earmarked for the promotion of juvenile soccer in this district."

We Missed Out On Newcastle

"Last year the Newcastle United touring team did not visit Victoria because local football officials were unable to raise a guarantee of $3,000. The B.C.F.A., which had to find this sum for each game allocated to them, insisted on this guarantee because Victoria did not support the last match of this nature. Less than $1,000 was taken at Athletic Park when the Scottish team played Victoria in June, 1939.

"This time there was no individual match guarantee to meet, but the B.C.F.A. had to lodge a deposit of $2,500 with the Dominion F.A. before the English tourists were routed to include British Columbia.

Local Group Had No Choice

"The B.C.F.A. officials insisted when the arrangements for the match were being made that the admission should be $2. They pointed out that Vancouver could sell out two games at this admission charge, and that if Victoria fans really wanted the match they would do the same.

"If the Victoria committee had turned down these terms, Victoria soccer fans would have had to go to the mainland to see the tourists, and they would not only have had to pay $2 admission but their boat or plane fare as well.

"If Victoria does not support this match, it is doubtful if the B.C.F.A. will consider allocating another match of this nature to the capital city.

"Fortunately this does not seem to be a danger. The sale of tickets is progressing favorably, and in the first day 10 times as much money was taken as in the whole of the pre sales for the 1939 visit of the Scottish touring team.

"Your reader's complaint that Saskatoon is charging only $1.25 and $1 for the match came as a surprise to the local officials. They were informed that there was a standard charge for the tour except in Toronto where the top price was raised to $3.

Prairie Football At Low Ebb

"The assumption is that the concession to Saskatoon has been made because prairie football is at a low ebb. Last year the Newcastle players said their Saskatoon match that they could have scored 30 goals without trouble. On this occasion the prairie side will be bolstered by the inclusion of four tourists, and will thus be no more than an exhibition. In addition, in the event of the match not clearing its feet, the loss will have to be met by the provincial associations of the west coast and the east.

"The Victoria Football Committee is doing everything in its power to ensure that the English touring team will have worthy opposition at Victoria. The local players may be a long way behind in skill, but there is no doubt that manager, coach, trainer and players are doing their utmost to make sure that the team will be 100 per cent fit."

100 Fighters Bid For Canuck Championships

LETHBRIDGE, Alta. (CP)—At least 14 bouts are expected to get the three-day Dominion boxing finals off to a flying start in the Lethbridge Arena tonight. Some 100 fighters will be in the race for national honors.

A sell-out crowd of more than 3,500 fans is expected opening night and jammed houses are practically assured for the remaining two nights.

Tickets have been gobbled up fast by fight fans in Lethbridge and district. Officials of the Lethbridge Amateur Boxing Association, which is sponsoring the finals, predict they will be one of the biggest sports attractions held here in many years.

Every province in the Dominion, with the exception of Newfoundland and Prince Edward Island and possibly Manitoba, will be represented. Due to the Manitoba floods, the province's team may not make the trip.

United-Scots In Final League Game Saturday

Victoria United meets its most bitter rival at Macdonald Park Saturday in the final scheduled Coast Soccer League game of the season when St. Andrews come to town.

The Scots need two points to gain a tie for second-half honors in the league race so no doubt will field their strongest possible line-up against the locals. Last night on the mainland St. Andrews came from behind to defeat New Westminster Royals, 3 to 1.

A victory or a tie for United would knock the props out from under the Scots but a win for St. Andrews would see the second-half tie decided on goal average. Vancouver City holds the league lead at present.

ROBE TO START

With rugged Tom Druce still out of the line-up with an injured hand, manager Dave Huggins will start young Cedric Robb at the centre-forward position. Jack Wilce and Andy Anderson have been named for the right side of the forward line with Den McGee and Ab Travis flanking Robb on the left.

Len Scott, Red McMillan and Nip Sage will form the half line with Chie Newman and Murray Speller on defence in front of Bill McAllister.

For St. Andrews it will be John Newbold in goal with Jackie Jones and John Webber at fullback and Don Matheson, Nick Glover and Wes Henderson on the half back line.

Brian Philley is the pivot man of the attack with Jim and Doug Greig on the right side and John Halley and George Steel on the right. Steve Dorazio, Bob New-

Newcombe's Smart Stand Warms Brooklyn Hearts

The pennant hopes of Brooklyn's Dodgers are brighter today. Big Don Newcombe is back on the beam.

Newcombe once again looks the pitcher the experts said would win at least 20 games and possibly become the first National League pitcher to win 30 since Dizzy Dean of the 1934 St. Louis Cardinals.

The husky negro right-hander stirred the hearts of Flatbush last night as he pitched the Dodgers to a five-hit 6 to 2 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Newcombe, who complained of a sore arm as he was batted from pillar to post in his three previous starts, showed no trace of the ailment as he went the distance for the first time this season. He fanned eight and climaxed a game-winning, four-run rally in the eighth inning with a two-run single.

The triumph enabled the Dodgers to remain within a game of the league-leading Philadelphia Phils who edged Cincinnati Reds 5 to 4 in a night game at Philadelphia. Willie Jones singled home Ed Waitkus, who had tripled, with the winning run in the last of the ninth.

Pittsburgh Pirates turned back the Braves 4 to 1 in another night game in Boston. The pirates snapped a 1 to 1 tie and drove Vern Bickford out with a three-run attack in the sixth inning.

THOMSON HOMERS
Sheldon Jones pitched New York Giants to a 4 to 1 triumph over Chicago Cubs in the National's only day game. He was helped by an inside-the-park home run in the first inning by Bob Thomson with one on.

New York Yankees outlasted St. Louis Browns 11 to 9, but fell into a first-place American League tie with Detroit Tigers.

The Tigers, who began the day two percentage points behind the Yankees, knocked off Boston Red Sox 6 to 3.

Ray Scarborough, ace Washington right-hander, pitched the Senators to a 2 to 0 decision over Chicago White Sox. Scarborough yielded six hits while the Senators collected only three off Bob Kuzava but the Senators made the most of seven walks.

Philadelphia Athletics scored three runs in the ninth inning to down the Indians 7 to 5 in a night game in Cleveland.

GEORGE VICO TO JOIN RAINIERS

SEATTLE (AP)—George Vico, the first baseman Seattle wanted so badly two years ago, was bought by the Rainiers yesterday from the Detroit Tigers.

A left-handed hitter, the 26-year-old first sacker will join the club this week in Sacramento.

His best year was the 1947 season with Portland when he clubbed .307 in 131 games.

It's bon voyage for the Wilsons—lucky lot! Away they go, all five, holiday— bent for a perfect summer. They know too how to bypass trouble with travel details. Passports, travellers' cheques, rail and Atlantic passage—all are being looked after by Canadian National. Of course, they will visit the famous shrines of England, Scotland and Ireland—and plan also to spend some time in Rome during this Holy Year.

Whether your craft is a trim little "snipe" or schooner rigged; or if you are the honored guest on a friendly deck, you'll want to be correctly and comfortably clad. For well nigh on to a century Wilson's has been recognized as THE place for correct sports wear, and at the opening of the yachting season we're ready with everything you'll need . . . Quality, of course, is quite essential to lasting good looks, and quality is taken for granted at W. & J.

Olympic Group Leaves Many Problems Unsolved

COPENHAGEN (AP) — The International Olympic Committee Wednesday ended a three-day meeting devoted more to discussion than decision.

Problems solved appeared to be outweighed by those left unsolved, but committee members said they are satisfied that progress was made.

These are the major concrete developments:

1. Exact dates for the 1952 winter and summer games were agreed upon. The winter games at Oslo will be from Feb. 14 through Feb. 25, the summer games at Helsinki from July 19 through Aug. 3.

2. The program for the summer games was accepted. It will be the same as in 1948 at London except that preliminary competitions in team sports may be necessary in Finland before the games open and the number of competitors for each country in each event of shooting and weightlifting will be one less.

3. A proposal to change the amateur rule to allow individual sports federations to decide who are amateurs was rejected.

CUP SOCCER MATCH TONIGHT

Esquimalt and Heaney's will meet in a semifinal match of the Price Cup soccer series at Macdonald Park tonight at 6.30.

Canadian Legion will clash with Duncan in the other cup semifinal at Heywood Avenue Sunday at 2.30.

Date of the final will be announced following the completion of these matches.

4. It was agreed to try to return ice hockey to the Olympic program.

5. Provisional recognition was extended to the Olympic committee of Western Germany.

Major problems left undecided include whether Japan and Germany will be allowed to compete in the 1952 games, a definite program for the winter games, a final decision on the status of hockey, a decision on amateur status in skiing and a reduction in the size of the games.

These were put off until the 1951 meeting of the committee at Vienna.

Aces Default; Hudson Lumber Stops Mooneys

The Brentwood Aces defaulted their senior A men's softball game to B.C. Forest Products last night when only eight players showed up for the game.

The gift victory moved Forest Products into second place while the loss dropped Brentwood into a three-way tie for third.

Tomorrow night Douglas Tire will meet the Aces at Central Park.

In senior B play Hudson Lumber trimmed Mooney's 10 to 6. Fred Johnson went the route for the winners.

Robbery In Dawson, Man Drowns, 2 Held

DAWSON, Y.T. (CP)—An orgy of robbery and attempted robbery Wednesday ended in death for one seaman and the jailing of two others.

Three crew members of the freighter Whitehorse, undergoing spring repairs here, beat up J. Salois, proprietor of the Westminster Hotel, robbed the till of the Rochester Hotel and attempted to rob the Royal Alexandra Hotel and the Arcade Cafe.

As police and citizens moved in, the three men jumped into a leaky row boat and tried to return to the shipyard below Dawson.

The boat filled and capsized 150 yards from shore. Constantinos Theoharis, whose parents live in Vancouver, was drowned. B. Ballaski and S. Ackerman, both of Vancouver, reached shore and were immediately arrested on theft charges.

The Alaska Highway was constructed at a cost of $130,000,000.

56 More 'Sons' Sentenced For Nude Parading

GRAND FORKS (CP)—Fifty-six members of the tragic, adamant Sons of Freedom sect of British Columbia's Doukhobor colony paraded before Magistrate E. W. Euerby here Wednesday and received three-year prison sentences for nude parading. The 36 men and 20 women were given the maximum sentence after being found guilty of nude parading at the nearby Sons settlement of Gilpin.

Only Tuesday, 52 Freedomites had received similar sentences here and at Nelson.

A total of 146 has been sentenced since April 28. Another 211 await trial for arson and nudism.

The Sons have put the torch to 33 buildings in their protest against a "coming third world war." The most recent outbreak started April 14 when eight homes were fired at Krestova, Sons "capital" in the West Kootenays.

Chinese Communists Seeking To Reform Ancient Marriage Customs

By O. M. GREEN

It was not to be expected that the Communists' ardour for reform would neglect the complicated—and certainly very one-sided—marriage customs of China. Now they announce a new marriage law in force from this week. To abolish polygamy and child marriages, give both sexes equal rights, emancipate the people, especially women, and make possible a new marriage system, new family relations and new social morality.

That the law will be difficult to enforce, the Communists frankly admit. For China's ways of marrying and giving in marriage are at least 3,000 years old and imbedded in the strictest instincts of Chinese propriety. When the revolution broke out in 1911 and the young Amazons of Canton formed themselves into a "Dare to Die Corps" to fight for it, nothing shocked their elders more than their declaration that they would henceforth choose their own husbands and even form "companionate marriages," for a trial union of six months or so to see how they and their mates got on together.

That particular audacity died away, though in the past 40 years the tendency has grown in the upper classes, particularly the student body, influenced by what they saw in America and England, to manage their own love affairs. One of the really effective laws passed by the now-detested Kuomintang in 1929 gave a girl the right to break off an engagement made by her parents.

NOT FOR MAJORITY

But for the four hundred millions, the peasants, the laborers, the shopkeepers and probably the great majority of the well-to-do class, the old customs have remained inviolate.

Their chief feature is that a girl has no rights and even the boy but little. The Communists' allusion to "child marriages" needs some explanation. Here and there a girl child might be sacrificed to some rich old rogue. But child marriage, as known in India, was never the practice of China. The average marriage age for a peasant girl (among the rich it is rather higher) is about 15 or 16, which among Orientals is not at all low.

On the other hand, betrothals almost in infancy are common enough where the parents are old friends. But there is no question of a wedding until the young couple are grown up, though in Chinese eyes an engagement is hardly less sacred than marriage itself, notwithstanding the Kuomintang law just mentioned.

In most marriages the professional matchmaker is an essential agent—a middle-aged woman of experience, judgment and discretion, able to answer to each family (between which there must be no blood ties) for the suitability of the desired husband or wife. Through her, too, will be settled the important details of dowry.

HAVE NO CHOICE

Neither bride nor bridegroom has any choice in the matter. Both Sun Yat-sen and Chiang Kai-shek were married off when young by their parents to girls whom they got rid of later in life. Most Chinese girls do not see their husbands until after the "lucky day" (fixed by soothsayers) when they are carried in tightly-shut red sedan chairs (red is the bridal color in China, white the hue of mourning), with a train of coolies carrying the wedding gifts, to the house of the intended. Even during the ceremony the bride's eyes are covered. And after it, while the bridegroom makes merry downstairs in festivities (which among rich folk may last a week) she is shut away upstairs and allowed no part in the fun.

Once married, the bride is absorbed into her father-in-law's house where she and her husband continue to live, and there her lot is hard. She is little more than a slave to her mother-in-law. But if she bears a son, her whole position improves. She has done her duty in carrying on the family, in providing an heir who will one day perform the necessary worship of the ancestors, and she acquires dignity accordingly. In due time that son will marry and she will bully his wife precisely as she herself has been bullied. But when her husband dies, she must go at regular intervals and howl her grief at his grave. No such duty falls to the husband. Furthermore, he can divorce her as he pleases, but she cannot divorce him. Her chief protection in this is that if her husband divorces her he must return to her family all her dowry and presents. So divorces are, in fact, rare.

Another point in the Communist law that needs elucidation is the prohibition against polygamy. In fact polygamy is a rich man's luxury. But what about concubines? If the wife fails to produce an heir it is very common for her to recommend to her husband a concubine and if a son is born he ranks as the son of the wife, not of the concubine.

In spite of the many disabilities imposed on a Chinese girl in marriage, she accepts them readily enough, as so much else is accepted in China, because it has always been so. In fact, most Chinese marriages are happy, though in public the wife always walks behind her husband and they never speak to each other.

But even from this short description it will be seen how much there is in a Chinese marriage which takes place privately and is very difficult for the law to reach. And there is this above all—the supreme law for all Chinese is to keep the family stream in full flow, to provide heirs for the worship of the ancestors, and for that not only the marriage itself but the details of its arrangement are of the first importance.

The greatest enemy which the Communists must overcome in China is the power of the family. To undermine that and convert China to the precepts of Moscow they naturally begin with the reform of marriage. Are they a little doubtful of success? One notices a statement accompanying the new law that all party members must obey it, study it and explain it to the people. There are 3,000,000 members of the Chinese Communist Party. That leaves, say, 447,000,000 very conservative and tenacious people still to be convinced that Marxist marriage customs are an improvement on China's.

Labor Men Fight Ruling On Unemployment Pay

Protest Decision During Strike
By Local Court Of Referees

Spokesmen for construction trade unions raised strong objections at Wednesday night's meeting of the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council over the local court of referees of the Unemployment Insurance Commission works.

The three complainants told of recent experiences with the referees' court over a commission decision that building tradesmen thrown out of work during the April building shutdown were not eligible for unemployment insurance benefits.

Fercy Raymond, business representative of the International Building and General Laborers' Union, started the discussion.

"When you go there, you are guilty until you prove yourself innocent," he told the meeting.

The procedure followed, he recounted, is to have one side go before the court, in private and then have the other side heard also in private.

Victor Midgley, business representative for the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, substantiated Mr. Raymond's statements.

"I thought I was in a French court," Mr. Midgley said.

"We were innocent of the charges and I told them, 'You haven't proved our members guilty.' I was told, 'We (members of the court) don't have to prove anything.'"

Mr. Midgley blamed the federal act governing Unemployment Insurance for what he termed "the most unfair procedure."

Speaking of the act, he declared, "The act is lousy. The whole thing should be scrapped. It's the most vicious thing I ever saw in my life."

Jack Discoli, secretary of the Victoria Building Trades Council, third person to speak on the court hearing, said that instead of sitting to hear the union's case, the main purpose of the investigating officer seemed to be to find a way of tripping up union spokesmen.

He thought the procedure should be definitely protested by the Trades and Labor Council.

The council, by resolution, referred the matter of studying the Unemployment Insurance Act to its unemployment committee. The committee was instructed to bring forth recommendation for amending the act to correct present alleged abuses.

The recommendation will be presented by the council at the forthcoming annual meeting of the Trades and Labor Congress.

Lie Says Stalin In Good Health

MOSCOW (Reuter) — Trygve Lie, Secretary-General of the United Nations, who saw Prime Minister Stalin for 90 minutes Monday, said Wednesday night that rumors about the Russian leader's health are "dirty lies and false."

Lie was addressing a press conference on his interview, and added: "He was seated as close to me as you are. He appeared as healthy and lively as when I saw him in 1946."

Rumors that Stalin has been in poor health "may be wishful thinking for some people, I can add," Lie said.

Fan Makes It Hot For Jack Frost

Every sunny day the earth soaks up warmth. Every clear night it throws it out. And that's how blossoms get frost-bitten. But the National Institute of Agricultural Engineering in Britain believes this huge fan will beat the silent killer.

All night it has been rotating, beating back the warmth the earth tries to radiate, and with the first light of dawn an orchardist is out looking for signs of frost—a black spot in the centre.

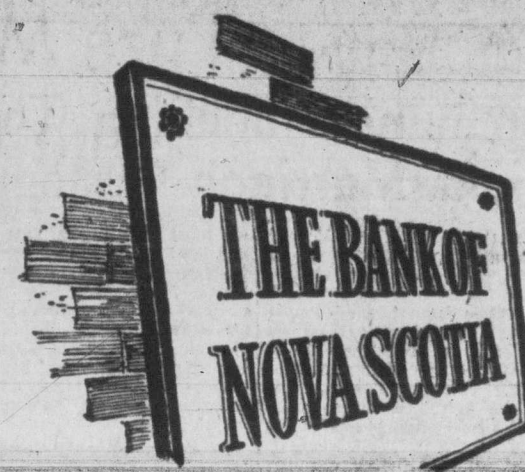

Reappraisal Of Buildings Soon

Buildings in Oak Bay owned by the municipality will soon be re-appraised to determine correct values with regard to insurance rates, Councillor R. B. Wilson, chairman of the finance committee, announced at an Oak Bay Council meeting Wednesday night.

As these buildings had been originally appraised several years ago, Councillor Wilson suggested they be re-inspected to determine whether present insurance values had either deteriorated or increased.

Red Gets Some Bobby Socks

A fleeing Red demonstrator is subdued by London bobbies during a rowdy "peace" demonstration by Communists in Trafalgar Square. Seventy persons were arrested and 14 policemen were injured as police tried to keep order among the demonstrators.

Renew Campaign For Road Port Alberni To Tofino

Two "hardy annuals" are scheduled to be brought up with other resolutions at the yearly meeting of Associated Chambers of Commerce of Vancouver Island to be held at Sidney, June 15.

The "annuals" are resolutions calling for the establishment of new roads.

The Tofino Chamber of Commerce is again asking the association to press the provincial government to build a road from Port Alberni to Tofino, to open up the island's much-talked-about Long Beach.

At the same time the Sooke-Jordan River Chamber is asking the association to press the government to complete the west coast road from Jordan River to Port Renfrew.

Both resolutions are expected to win overwhelming support from the convention—just as they have in previous years.

Revive Passion Play At Oberammergau

OBERRAMMERGAU, Germany (Reuter)—The first performance in 16 years of the ancient Oberammergau Passion Play—depicting the story of Jesus from his entry into Jerusalem to his ascension—took place here Wednesday, on the eve of Ascension Day.

The people of this small and devoutly Roman Catholic township have been performing the play since 1634, but they are modern enough to reserve the first "post-Hitler" performance for newspaper and radio correspondents from all corners of the globe.

Prize Money Bill Before Commons

Members' Views Differ On Method Of Distribution Of Wartime Fund

OTTAWA (CP)—A storm blew up in Parliament Wednesday over distribution of $2,500,000 in Canadian naval wartime "prize money."

Opposition members termed "fraudulent" and "a two-and-a-half million dollar steal," a government bill that will divide the money between the naval and air force benevolent funds. Traditionally it would go to sailors of the fleet, but Canada, along with Britain, is discarding this 400-year-old practice.

Defence Minister Claxton said no fair method could be found to divide among officers and men of the navy the money which represents the value of a German and an Italian vessel captured during the war. He had not met an officer who did not think the government's method was a fair method.

The debate brought from Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C. (P.C. Nanaimo) the charge that the government's action in discarding the traditional distribution was "high-handed and arbitrary." Naval men, remembering prize money from the First World War, had a "reasonable expectation" of it from the last war as "an act of grace."

Other speakers included Maj. David Fulton (P.C. Kamloops), Ray Thomas (S.C. Wetaskiwin), J. M. Macdonnell (P.C. Toronto-Greenwood), H. P. Cavers (L. Lincoln).

The bill got second reading, but the government probably hasn't heard the last of it. The legislation now goes to a special House committee which also will study other defence department legislation in detail. The storm may well blow up again there.

TARIFF QUESTIONS

Canada's tariff policy also came in for criticism. M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, said Canada was giving too many tariff concessions to the United States.

Search For Statue

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—Five thousand volunteers have been recruited by the Roman Catholic Church in Costa Rica to aid in the search for the statue of the Virgin of the Angels, patroness of Costa Rica, which disappeared last Friday.

FORMER VICTORIAN WINS $1,000 SCIENCE AWARD

BALTIMORE (AP)—Dr. Roger Yate Stanier, associate professor of bacteriology at the University of California, Berkeley, Wednesday night was awarded a $1,000 prize for fundamental contributions to the war on germs.

A native of Victoria and a graduate of the University of British Columbia, Dr. Stanier was presented with the Eli Lilly and Company award conferred each year by the Society of American Bacteriologists on a scientist under the age of 35 who has made significant contributions to bacteriology.

He was cited in General for various contributions to the field of bacterial physiology—that is, the field concerned with what goes on inside a bug's system.

A graduate of the University of British Columbia in 1936, he was awarded his Doctorate of Philosophy in microbiology by Stanford University in 1942.

During the war he served on the staff of the Canadian National Research Council at Ottawa, and in 1945-46 had a Guggenheim Memorial Fellowship in England.

He later served as an assistant professor of bacteriology at Indiana University before going to Berkeley.

Two Fliers Missing

ISLE OF MAN, Eng. (AP)—Two fighter pilots were still missing today after a collision between their planes Wednesday night. The planes were based on the British aircraft carrier Implacable.

Would Jolt Senate

EDMONTON (CP)—Senator J. W. Stambaugh of Bruce, Alta., said in an interview here today he favored compulsory retirement of senators at the age of 75. He added that the Senate needed to be "pepped up."

Oak Bay Asked To Adopt Same Nursing Home Tax

Recommendation that the policies of the other municipalities be followed regarding the question of taxation of nursing homes in Oak Bay was proposed at a council meeting Wednesday night.

According to Reeve P. A. Gibbs nursing homes in the city were taxed.

Councillor George Murdoch stated that to tax these establishments would be similar to taking money from one hand and placing it in the other.

At an Esquimalt Council meeting this week, councillors decided they would not lease certain properties for the construction of nursing homes because of the tax free clause, it was pointed out.

Artificial Pearls Reach N.Z. By Smugglers' Route

Flow Commenced When Soldiers Started Coming Home From Japan Occupation

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (CP)—Large quantities of artificial pearls have been confiscated from would-be smugglers in vessels reaching New Zealand, yet every boat from the Far East brings more. Pearls have become the top commodity of smugglers on the New Zealand coast.

The flow started when New Zealand soldiers began returning from the occupation force in Japan. Large numbers of strings were smuggled in by the troops.

No effort to search for them was made at first, but when it was found some soldiers were selling them in wholesale lots to jewelers, efforts were made to check the inflow and some were confiscated.

Since the troops have returned, however, the trade has grown to much larger proportions. Crews of vessels from the east have been buying strings of artificial pearls for $1 to $3 each in Japan and selling them here for up to $10. Customs raids have served only to make the crews more expert in concealing the pearls.

A vessel which arrived here recently had been searched by Australian customs officers at Brisbane, Sydney, Melbourne and Adelaide. Any vessel from the east is automatically suspect, and a thorough search is made at each port.

However, customs officers at Auckland noticed even before the vessel berthed that efforts were being made to smuggle pearls ashore. A man in a row-boat who was seen talking to the crew was later arrested with over 700 strings of pearls aboard.

No effort was made to search the ship at the time, however, and the Chinese crew apparently was lulled into a false sense of security. After several days a squad of customs men dashed up the gangway and made a rapid search of the crew's quarters.

In spite of frenzied efforts by the crew to dispose of them, sacks of pearls were found, and more came to light in an intensive stem-to-stern search of the vessel.

Mr. Clark, until recently general manager of the South African Railways, has already attended a preliminary conference at Lisbon which drew up a general agenda for the main conference, to be held in South Africa in October.

Asked if any new pan-African transport project is likely to be discussed at the coming conference, he said "nothing much has been said yet about the plan, which the British colonial office is directing, to link the railway system of Northern Rhodesia with those of East Africa."

"At present, the most northerly point of the Northern Rhodesian Railways is Sakania. From there the line goes northwest through the Belgian Congo to the terminus at Port Francqui.

"But the new line, which is already being surveyed, would, I should imagine, branch off at Broken Hill and run northeast through Kasama and from there to the Mbeya plateau, which lies at the top of the great range of mountains between the northern end of Lake Nyasa and the southern end of Lake Tanganyika."

Railway To Tap Fertile Tracts Of Mid-Africa

CAPETOWN (CP)—One of the great African transport projects that will be laid before the coming conference of central and southern African countries will be a railway line linking Northern Rhodesia with the East African Territories.

W. Marshall Clark, secretary for the interim transport organization for central and southern Africa, says the line will open large fertile tracts of Africa that have remained unexplored and untapped because of their remoteness. The line will also have obvious strategic importance in time of war.

Mr. Clark, until recently general manager of the South African Railways, has already attended a preliminary conference at Lisbon which drew up a general agenda for the main conference, to be held in South Africa in October.

Aid Promised In Prison Case

Taking time out from the Big Three conference in London, U.S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson confers with Mrs. Lucille Vogeler about the plight of her husband, Robert, serving a prison sentence in Hungary on espionage charges. Although Vogeler's 15-year sentence was recently upheld by the Hungarian Supreme Court, Secretary Acheson said he would make a new effort to have him released. (NEA Photo)

Cuddle Up, Please, Urges Conductor

SYDNEY, Australia (CP)—A bus conductor here solved the problem of how to pack in extra passengers. His peremptory "Move along please," had no effect, so he changed his tactics. "Now, boys and girls," he said, "would you all just cuddle up a little bit closer, please?" They laughed—and they did.

Sees More Farmers For Peace River

VANCOUVER (CP)—A wide increase in the farming population of northern British Columbia's Lower Liard River is forecast by Dr. Griffith Taylor, professor of geography at the University of Toronto.

Dr. Taylor says the rapid expansion of the Peace River area will be repeated "in the next generation."

He says he bases his prediction on the belief that nature has largely decided a country's future before man occupies it, and man should not depart from the directions indicated by natural environment.

And it follows that since Canada's agriculture is the major factor in producing a stable, close settlement, the country will be settled as far north as agriculture is practicable.

The northern boundary is where the average July temperature is 57 degrees. In Canada, this line runs through the northern tip of Newfoundland, the extreme north of the prairie provinces and down the Mackenzie River basin to the Arctic Circle.

Big Seal Catch

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—The sealer Newfoundland returned here recently with a tally-out of 17,387 seal pelts. Gross weight was more than 363 tons, valued at $38,283.89. Crew members' shares amounted to about $280.

U.S. Senator Urges Moral Peace Crusade

WASHINGTON (AP)—But for the Hiroshima atomic bomb blast in 1945, Brien McMahon might well have lived out his career without attracting much more attention than any other competent United States senator.

He was 42 years old and had served only a few months of his first—and present—term as a Democratic senator from Connecticut.

The Hiroshima blast was as much of a surprise to him as to anyone—"the first I knew of the bomb was President Truman's announcement that it had been dropped," he said in an interview—but he quickly concluded that atomic energy was something that must be leashed.

What information he could pry from reluctant sources bolstered this conclusion and convinced him that U.S. atomic energy must be under civilian, not military control.

Now, in the Democratic-controlled 81st Congress, he is chairman of the commission.

There is an air of urgency about McMahon. In considering the atomic and hydrogen bombs he radiates a feeling that time is running out—swiftly.

He said in a recent Senate speech: "The clock is ticking—ticking—ticking—and with each swing of the pendulum grows shorter."

He expressed his "intense conviction that our decision, born of necessity, to build the hydrogen bomb must be accompanied by the immediate initiation of a moral crusade for peace having far greater potential effect than physical weapon, even chunks of the sun."

Ever since J. M. Synge's then-controversial "The Playboy of the Western World" was produced in January, 1907, and was jeered and counter-jeered every night for a week—the actors kept talking but they couldn't always be heard—the Abbey has often been a cockpit of conflicting opinions.

Synge's detractors said he was "anti-clerical." That's the charge also levelled against the latest play to stir up trouble here.

The piece is Seamus Byrne's sombre drama set in an internment camp for Irish patriots. Local critics found the play's conflict between a Marxist prisoner, played by Walter Macken, and the prison chaplain, played by Liam O'Foghu, hard to grasp, unformed and inconclusive.

STRONG LANGUAGE
Some of the strong language Byrne put in the mouths of his characters prompted the Irish Independent to ask:

"Is it necessary for realism to make such free use of the name of the Divinity on our Dublin stages?"

The first three performances went off quietly, but the fourth night was marked by shouts from the back seats of "This is an insult to Irishmen!" and "This is an insult to the Temperance Union!"

Midway through the third act, a man rose from his seat, informed his fellow patrons "This is enough," and left. About 20 followed him.

LOBBY PROTEST

In the Abbey's tiny lobby, the anti-Byrne group held a meeting, passing the resolutions that "As Irish Catholics we should protest against the stage of the national theatre being used as a smear on the Catholic priesthood and as the basis for an attack on the mystical body of Christ."

One of the group, Thomas O'Connor, said the stage was being used "for the glorification of the Marxian revolution without an opportunity being given for an adequate reply."

Coal Mining In Germany Better

ESSEN, Rhur (Reuter)—West Germany's 1950 coal output may establish a postwar record and allied experts estimate that by the end of the year the miners will be digging almost as much coal a day as they did in 1938, peak year of Nazi rearmament. Present indications are that the West German coal industry, which owes much of its remarkable postwar recovery to American and British aid, will increase production this year by 13,000,000 metric tons for a total output of 116,000,000 tons. Allied experts report that, by November, West German miners will be digging 400,000 tons of hard coal a day, an increase of 40,000 tons daily on the present average. The record average during 1938 was 448,000 tons a day. In 1949, Germany earned about $300,000,000 from her coal exports.

Trades & Labor Council For School Loan By-Law

Endorses $666,400 Building Plan For Buildings In Greater Victoria Area

The Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council (A.F.L.-T.L.C.) Monday night went on record as being in favor of passage of the school loan by-law which will be submitted to property owners in the Greater Victoria area on June 22 and 24.

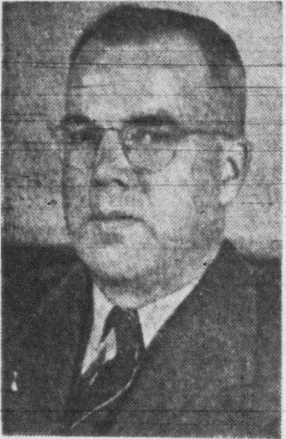

Action by the council followed an address by School Trustee Jack De Bourcier who said the $666,000 which the June by-law called for would be sufficient to complete the entire school building program planned by the board in 1947.

At that time, he recalled, property owners authorized the borrowing of $2,000,000 for the financing of new school construction. Purpose of the new by-law, he said, was to provide additional money to cover increased construction costs.

Projects to be undertaken once the new by-law is passed, he said, include a primary school unit at Macdonald Park, elementary schools at Strawberry Vale and Cadboro Bay, junior schools at Oak Bay, Lansdowne, Central (the latter to replace the existing school which is to be demolished), and high school additions at Mount View and Mount Douglas.

INSTALLMENT 34

It was characteristic of Syrie to make a bargain even with the fates and expect to get the best of it. She had promised herself that if Baba got well, she would make everything right between Clemency and Piers. This time, though, she was at least ready to keep her share of the bargain.

She left the room, and Clemency and Piers, left together, regarded each other for a moment in silence. Then:

"What did she say to you?" Piers demanded.

"That—that you had been engaged before she married Jon. That after you brought them here you two had still—still loved each other. That it had been too strong for you, but it was all over."

"She let you believe that what Jon had told you was true?"

HEART BROKEN
She caught her breath. "It broke my heart, but how could I imagine that any woman would confess such a thing if it were not true?"

His smile had a bitter edge. "It seems that neither you nor I understand a certain type of woman, though, goodness knows, I should have found out something about Syrie by now." He glanced at Clemency's left hand. "So you took off my ring?"

She slipped her fingers into the pocket of her frock. "I brought it for you." Piers took it without a word. "Did you really think I was capable of—taking Jon's wife?"

"That was what nearly killed me. Oh, Piers!"

But he did not touch her, and her outstretched hands fell to her sides.

She seated herself in one corner of a deep settee, her troubled eyes on his face. "Piers, must you talk about it? Does it matter, any more?"

MUST FACE FACTS

"Yes," he said. "Let us get it told and over. Let us face the fundamental facts from which everything else has sprung. First, that once I loved Syrie very deeply and desperately. Second, that whatever Syrie says, she is incapable of loving any one."

"In the hectic days before the war she was one of the most spoiled of that particular collection of young women whom society journalists christened 'lovelies.' She adored homage, but she had no desire to marry, and certainly none to settle down. Then I met her, and I was—a very persistent wooer."

"Also, as I discovered afterwards, she was told I was an extremely good catch; her—parent to the considerable for-ture which my eccentric grandfather possessed. When war broke out I was immediately ordered to rejoin my regiment in India, and I wanted her to marry me before I went, but she hated the idea of a rushed wedding, so it was arranged that she should follow me."

"But that was not so easy as we—anyhow, I—had hoped. And while she was waiting for a passage she met Jon, who had returned from America to make himself useful. He was not physically fit, and they turned him down for the forces. He and Syrie went about a lot together. He fell crazily in love with her, and to be as brief as possible, another relative of ours told her that it was Jon and not I who was to get the old man's fortune. This was nearly at the end of the war—I was serving in the Middle East at the time, and our engagement was still hanging fire. They married, and she wrote and told me what she had done. Jon had believed that our engagement was broken."

SHREWD OLD MAN
"Our grandfather, at 92, was still very alert and uncomfortably shrewd. He had always intended finally to leave his fortune equally divided between Jon and myself (he stated this in his will). Unfortunately for Syrie, he had taken a violent dislike to her, though he never let her guess it. He might have lived to be 100, but he was killed in one of the last V2 incidents that took place. He left the whole of his money to me."

"Personally, I didn't care a darn whether I came through the war or not. It wasn't that I still cared for Syrie; it was that I was utterly disillusioned and embittered by the way she had behaved, and the discovery that the girl I loved never had existed except in my idealistic imagination. Remember, went you, that it has been nearly 10 years since I first met her, and I was very much younger in every way."

Clemency's heart ached for him. She longed to go to him, to put her arms about him, but she felt as though she, too, had failed him.

"Meanwhile my cousin died and left me Red Aloes. It was here I came when it was all over, bitter against Jon who had taken the girl I loved—the more bitter because I had always cared for him so much."

MADE PROMISE
"You see, I had never considered the fact that we were half-brothers. I lost my own mother when I was Baba's age. My stepmother absolutely filled her place, but in my anger I forgot that I had made a solemn

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

"Please settle an argument for us," pleads a Pittsburgh reader. "We climbed up to a slam with this hand, as you can see by the bidding. We didn't make the slam, because West opened a diamond and East took the first two tricks."

"I said that North had no right to carry the bidding single-handed to a slam. North said the slam would have been a cinch if I had held three aces; or the king of diamonds instead of the queen of diamonds instead of my actual hand; or even if the missing ace had been the ace of clubs rather than the ace of diamonds. He said also that even with the actual hand I would have made the slam if West had opened a club instead of a diamond."

"North claims that because of all these considerations, the slam contract is reasonably sound. I made a number of statements in reply, chiefly to the effect that we had actually gone down and that I couldn't see the logic in bidding a slam when the opponents could and did take the first two tricks against us."

PEACEMAKER
I must take the traditional peacemaker's attitude that there is a certain amount of right on both sides. It isn't fair to judge a hand completely by the results. If you did, you'd have to say promise always to stand by Jon, to guard him, if possible, against the hereditary weakness which came from her side of the family. Her father, her grandfather, and his father before him had all been drunkards, but the taint had never seemed to manifest itself in Jon, so I suppose I just let it go at that."

"Just over a year ago, I received a letter from my mother's lawyer, who is also a very old friend. He told me that Jon's marriage was a failure—that he and Syrie were up to their necks in debt. Jon had mortgaged every penny he had inherited from his mother and was badly in the hands of money-lenders. And he was drinking hard."

"Syria had gone her own way since the baby came, though she still lived under the same roof with Jon. Remembering the promise I'd made to my stepmother to look after Jon, I felt very guilty and went to see them at once to find out what could be done."

that North's bidding was excellent if West opened a club; but that North's bidding was terrible if West opened a diamond.

Instead of bidding four no trump, North should have jumped to four hearts. By the jump to two spades he had already shown a very powerful hand. By jumping to four hearts at his second opportunity, North would show his excellent support for that suit. It would then be up to South to try for slam if his hand happened to be strong enough.

Obviously, South would bid a slam by himself if he held three aces. Likewise, if South had two aces and the king of diamonds, he should bid the slam for himself. He could be quite sure that his partner had at least one ace for the jump takeout and a strong raise in hearts.

In short, North should not have bid the slam himself. He should have told his story and then left it up to South to decide whether or not he wanted to be in a slam.

Electrical Men Offer Plan To Combat Job Shortage

To stem rising unemployment, a special committee of the Victoria local, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, has drafted and put forth a 10-point program for providing work for all.

The proposal was submitted by the electricians' committee at a meeting Wednesday night of the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council. The committee wants:

1. Establishment of a steel mill.
2. Establishment of an industry for making wallboard and other building products out of waste lumber.
3. Installation of an underground wiring system in Victoria.
4. Installation of sewers in Saanich.
5. Implementation of a six-hour work day.
6. Discharge of married women from the Parliament Buildings and the Unemployment Insurance Commission.
7. Establishment of textile mills.
8. Greater hydro development to attract new industries.
9. Subsidized shipbuilding.
10. Introduction of a federal tax of 40 per cent on repair work done on Canadian ships outside Canada.

By ART STOTT

WHEN BRUCE GRAY was active in First United Church and boys' work here several years ago, he had one youngster in his group who was hard to handle. The rest of the crowd seemed to pull together nicely. They'd decide on a project and all join in doing it. They'd join until the hard egg arrived and broke things up. It got to be quite a problem for the boys' club. Bruce hit on an idea. He made the rebel president of the club. Responsibility, named him 'donna'. He turned out well, had a good flair for leadership.

You'll find that type of youngster almost anywhere. He's not particularly the kind who won't play if he can't be captain, but he needs some chance to express himself. If he's nudged in the right direction, he makes good. If he's left to drift, he still finds a way to express himself and that expression can wind up with tears in juvenile court.

BOYS LIKE BRUCE'S problem child can do a good job, once they're straightened out. They have a little of that Tom Sawyer touch about them that appeals to their own age grouping and those a little younger. They aren't "chicken" or "sissy," and if they have a bent for the spectacular it catches their gang. They don't have to start out on the wrong foot as trouble-makers and be converted. But often that and the rest can lift them above the heap as easily as it can put them on the school or community blacklist. They have influence.

Whether you like to talk from the book and say man is a gregarious animal, or whether you like to break it down into the vernacular and say that young guys like to hang around in gangs, you're forced to realize that boys of that nature need special attention. They have leadership in them. It can make them top dog in a bunch of punks breaking into stores and stealing cigarettes, or it can put them at the head of a group that goes in for sport or decent hobby interests.

THE PROBLEM is one of finding out how to guide the youngster so he'll grow straight. A youth not much older than himself, whom the boy admires, can do a lot of cultivation there. Boys in their early teens are pretty shy animals. They can be frightened away easily from a too serious approach. But if they have a pattern to follow they are seldom hard to lead.

One of the problems facing men who make boys' work their business is the scarcity of young fellows who are ready to take on the job of pattern makers. Many who could do it don't seem to recognize any obligation in that field. There isn't any definite responsibility you can fix on them. They're free people in a free country, and unless they want to help the youngsters, the leadership supply is inadequate to meet the demands.

THERE ISN'T any lack in Victoria of organizations interested in young people. Adults seem more conscious than ever of the need for directing the teenagers. But adults don't talk the language of teenagers. Their emotions differ. They're just off in a different room. Unless enough links can be built between them and the kids they're trying to help, the effort can't be very effective.

At the end of this month, Dr. Alan Klein, of the University of Toronto School of Social Work, will come to town under the auspices of the recreation division of the Council of Social Welfare. From May 29 to June 2, he's going to give a course on leadership. Maybe he'll be able to provide some pointers on ways of interesting the older youths in the work of helping to direct the juveniles.

IT WON'T be an easy job. Canadians are a little sour on the "Leader" theory. They're members that "der Fuehrer" means "the Leader" in German. They don't want a social system that will work up from the people, through a lot of little leaders to an apex of one big leader. Canadians are individualists, even if they are gregarious animals, too. They object to the idea of being sheep following a bell-wether.

At the same time, they know that there are boys, like the one Bruce Gray dealt with, who are going to influence their fellows, one way or another. They want the influence to be good. That throws them back to the question of leadership—a leadership that doesn't teach the individual the goose-step. It has to be the type that helps a youngster enjoy decent and constructive pleasures, that encourages him to develop a sense of responsibility, that reminds him he's going to fall in with some gang and that it's up to him to help make it a good one.

Crops On Island Three Week Late

Delay But No Damage To Trees By Hard Winter

The growing season on Vancouver Island and the Gulf Islands this year is about three weeks later than normal, according to the horticulture branch of the Department of Agriculture. It is about the same as in 1948, though.

Despite the hard winter, there does not appear to be any cold weather injury to tree fruits on the island, but damage in the Okanagan and other interior points has been heavy.

Island strawberries appear to have wintered well. It is reported by the branch. The plants are just coming into bloom, but severe ground frosts in recent weeks have caused a considerable number of "black eyes."

Deep snow on the islands during the winter broke many raspberry canes, and there was some bud damage also.

It is not known yet how the loganberry, boysenberry and blackberry crop will be this year as these cane fruits suffered damage as well. Buds are reported slow in developing. The branch reports also heavy damage to ornamental plants on Vancouver Island and the Gulf Islands. Roses were hard hit, also English laurel, Laurustinus and Monterey cypress.

Former St. Ann's Academy Teacher, Sister Mary, Dies

Sister Mary Magdalen of Pazzi, who for many years taught at St. Ann's Academy here and in Vancouver, died Wednesday in her 83rd year.

Born Anna Paquette in Paquetville, Que., in 1867, she joined the Sisters of St. Ann at the order's mother-house at Lachine in 1885.

In 1887, Sister Mary came to B.C. and, for 40 years, taught primary-grade children at St. Ann's Academy.

In 1927 she went to St. Augustine's School in Vancouver and retired to Victoria in 1945.

In later years she taught girls whom she called her "grand-children"—those children whose parents she had taught in the past.

Funeral services will be held in the St. Ann's Academy Chapel at 8.30 Saturday morning. Arrangements are being made by Hayward's B.C. Funeral Co.

INFLUENCES AT WORK

Fresh, Original Work In School Art Show

By AUDREY S. D. JOHNSON

Painting, design, crafts and applied arts in various media, as taught and practised in the junior and senior high schools of Greater Victoria, are the subject-matter of an interesting exhibit at the Arts Centre on Broughton Street, this week.

Much of the work shows freshness and originality. Some of the students have developed an excellent color-sense while others reveal an amazing grasp of the laws of composition and facility in draughtsmanship.

Definite influences are at work in some of the products; most appear, to a certain extent, derivative. However, few art students fail to pass through areas of influence before emerging, emancipated individuals, and there is ample evidence in this exhibition that such will be the case with several of these young artists.

Textile design, painting on textiles, fashion drawing, leather tooling, absorb many of the girl students, but they are also fully represented by posters, humorous drawings and paintings.

Included in the show are life drawings, mural-type friezes, lino cuts, architectural models and puppets.

A good example of artistic conception and feeling for color, is to be found in "Mountain

More Severe Immigration Rules Sought

The Grand Orange Lodge of B.C. today passed a resolution urging that higher physical, intellectual and educational standards be required of all persons coming to Canada as prospective citizens.

The resolution said the greatest care should be taken in admitting people into Canada and that such persons should be able to show that they would be an asset to the country.

Another resolution was passed opposing Oriental immigration into Canada "because of the tendency of Orientals to settle on the Pacific coast and because an increase of Oriental percentage in our population must eventually become a menace to our national security."

The resolution added that because of the adverse influence on industrial and commercial life and standards of living, and differences in social and religious beliefs, they cannot become part of that national entity which is essential to the best interests of the nation.

The 100 delegates also approved a resolution that "we view with no little apprehension the permission given to Japanese to engage again in the fishing industry."

License Suspended For Careless Driving

Mike Kitchuk, 2832 Douglas Street, was fined $40 and was prohibited for driving one month when he appeared in city police court this morning and pleaded guilty to a charge of careless driving.

Kitchuk was the driver of a car which, traveling south on Douglas Street May 14, crossed to the wrong side of the road and hit a parked car. Owner of the parked vehicle was George A. McEwen, 2415 Douglas Street. Total damage was $175.

Railway Officials Read Of Floods

No Hope Of Recovering Ogden Pt. Expenditure

C.N.R. president Donald Gordon said here today the government-owned railway system had spent more than it could hope to recover in renovating Ogden Point docks.

Though having good faith in the development of the B.C. coast as a whole, Mr. Gordon said the quarter of a million dollars expended on the city's 32-year-old ocean terminal could hardly be a major factor in attracting shipping to this port.

"I can't see where the traffic is going to come from to make Ogden Point pay. We are hoping it may develop, but at present, we cannot see much," the six-foot-two railway executive said.

PACIFIC TRADE

He added he thought the west coast was on the verge of a great development as far as Pacific trade was concerned, but that ports like Prince Rupert and Vancouver would be more likely to benefit.

Though on what he termed "stop, look and listen tour," Mr. Gordon gave a few views on railway costs.

He did not think it was inevitable railways should lose money, pointing out that given sufficient volume and fair rates they could show a profit. This was demonstrated during the war, he said.

But freight rates have not risen as much as other costs, the total increase since 1939 being only 33 per cent in Canada as against 58 per cent in the U.S. and 75 per cent in Britain.

"Volume of traffic has been maintained satisfactorily since the war, but there is still an imbalance between costs and rates," the president remarked.

NO P.G.E. DEAL

Asked if the C.N.R. had considered taking over the provincially-owned P.G.E. Railroad, Mr. Gordon said there had been no special negotiations or considerations "in my time."

"It is a matter of railway policy depending on the circumstances. The matter is not under consideration now," he said.

C.N.R. CHIEF CHECKS UP ON SON'S MARKS

"I'm just like any other old man when it comes to checking up on my son's marks," said C.N.R. president Donald Gordon today.

Mr. Gordon's 20-year-old son, Donald Jr., who is accompanying his father on a tour of the railway's facilities in western Canada, received his marks from Queen's University Wednesday. He has just completed his second year of arts.

"I did O.K.," was his only remark.

"Of course I expected wonders," chimed in his father. Donald Jr. is interested in a journalistic career and works for Canadian Press during his summer holidays.

Garson Says Comox To Be Douk Prison

Confirmation that arrested Doukhobor terrorists will be imprisoned in an empty naval barracks at Comox, despite protests from Comox residents, was given today in the House of Commons by Mrs. Justice Minister Garson.

He said Attorney-General Wismer of B.C. had agreed to the choice "as the least undesirable of all alternatives," according to a Canadian Press dispatch.

The question was raised in the Commons by J. L. Gibson (Ind., Comox-Alberni) who asked, in "view of telegrams of protest," whether the Justice Department had definitely arranged with the Department of Defence to take over the barracks as a place of detention for apprehended Sons of Freedom.

Mr. Garson said the answer was in the affirmative. The arrangements had not been completed but would be shortly.

Mr. Gibson said Mr. Wismer had been consulted about all phases of federal participation in the Doukhobor problem. It might be said that "he at least accepted the choice as the least desirable of all alternatives."

Seeks Return Of Land In Civil Suit

Ann Saunders, widow, 2630 Orchard Avenue, in a civil action heard in Supreme Court before Mr. Justice H. S. Wood today, sought the return of a piece of property which she conveyed to H. S. Morton in February, 1947. The widow claimed she transferred the property to the defendant when she was ill and had no knowledge of what she was doing.

Former M.L.A. C. Tupper Dies In Penticton

A former Liberal member of the B.C. Legislature and director of the P.G.E., Charles H. P. Tupper, died today at Penticton.

Word of his passing was received by Premier Byron Johnson who paid tribute to his memory: "Mr. Tupper had given of his time and talent in the interests of the people of B.C. It is with profound regret that I received the news of his death."

Mr. Tupper represented Similkameen in the Legislature. He first was elected in 1933 after trying unsuccessfully for election in 1928. He remained in the House until 1937.

He was born in London, Ont., Oct. 11, 1887, and received his education at Mission City and New Westminster.

In private life, Mr. Tupper was a locomotive engineer for the C.P.R.

Mr. Tupper was still a director of the P.G.E. at the time of his death.

President Doubts If Business Justifies $5,000,000 Expenditure

The C.N.R. may abandon part of its service on the B.C. coast, it was indicated here today by Donald Gordon, president of the government-owned transportation system.

"The Ss. Prince Rupert is now 40 years old," he said, "and it is getting near the day when we either must abandon the service she gives or build a new ship."

"It is a question whether there is sufficient traffic on the coast to warrant a new ship. It would cost about $5,000,000 to duplicate our new ship, the Prince George."

FIRST TOUR

The 49-year-old former head of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, is in the city for a one-day visit as part of his first tour of western facilities and installations since he became head of the C.N.R.

He visited the company's year-old downtown offices, toured Ogden Point, now nearing completion of an extensive renovation, called on Premier Byron Johnson, Mayor Percy George and Lieutenant-Governor Charles

A. Banks, and inspected the railway terminal at Point Ellice.

Speaking about Canadian National Steamships Ltd., Mr. Gordon said there was strong competition for the four-passenger freighter "Challenger" boats on east coast's West Indies trade and that it is "tough to make it pay."

The C.N.R. now operates 14 freight vessels at a heavy loss to serve the hundreds of tiny fishing villages around the Newfoundland coast. Part of the arrangement when the island province entered confederation was that the C.N.R. take over the narrow-gauge Newfoundland railway and its associated activities.

Mr. Gordon and his party of railroad officials, including S. F. Dingle, vice-president of operations, will leave for the mainland tonight.

Petitioners Want To Use Army Hut As Parish Hall

A further petition regarding the transfer of an army hut for use as a Parish Hall on the property adjacent to Our Lady of Lourdes Church at the corner of Haultain and Epworth Streets was read at an Oak Bay Council meeting Wednesday night.

Petition was based on the fact that the area caused a serious traffic hazard when cars were parked outside the premises.

Councillors decided to refer the matter to the Oak Bay police department.

Reeve F. A. Gibbs pointed out he had informed the petitioner, Mrs. Della Hall, 2388 Epworth Street, previously that a former petition regarding the transfer of the hut could not be handled by the council.

Legion Favors Nov. 11 Still As Remembrance Day

Members of the Esquimalt Branch of the Canadian Legion voted unanimously for retaining Remembrance Day on the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month, at a meeting of the branch on Wednesday evening.

There had been a movement to change the date to a summer month so that it would not be such a hardship on aging veterans of the First World War to stand guard in harsh weather which is the order in many parts of Canada early in November.

Veterans of both wars in Esquimalt made it clear Wednesday night that they are satisfied to let the Armistice Day of the First World War stay as the day of remembrance for the men who fell in both wars.

Decorations For May 24th
Plentiful In City Stores

By PENNY SAVER

"Stand well back, kids, here comes the parade," you will hear a policeman say as the May 24th celebrations get under way next Wednesday. Following that statement mother will gladly stuff Junior's hands with balloons, flags and noisemakers, that she has grudgingly had to lug about till that time, and all the gaiety of that day will break loose.

If you've planned to take part in Victoria's festival of fun you'd better get your piggy bank broken and come down to the stores early to stock up on red, white and blue decorations.

Canadian, British and American flags will be flying everywhere and you can decorate everything from your lapel to the chimney tops with the sizes available. The large 2 foot by 14 1/2 inch flags, 25 pennies; 13 1/2 inch by 8 1/2 inch, 15 cents; 12 by 7 1/2 inch, a dime; and the 2 by 7 1/2 inch flags, the ones you'll wear or use as table decorations, are selling at 3 for 5 pennies.

There's a plentiful display of pin wheels to tempt every child. The four blade pin wheel sells for 10 cents, the 8-inch size, 15 cents, and the silver beauties, 19 cents. If little Sammy, in your family, wants to attach a pin wheel without the long stick, to his bicycle, he'll love the "whirly" that are made with suction cups for just that purpose. Moisture the small cup before you apply it to the "bike" or any other hard surface and it will be there to stay.

Creme paper, in patriotic colors of red, white and blue, is available in 8-foot lengths, 20 inches wide, for 10 cents and the 40-foot streamers at the same price. By the way, for a dollar you can buy a set of flags... there are 12 in a set... to string across the doorway.

Never let it be said that the sun won't beam with extra intensity as crowds gather to watch activities on that particular day. The reason I am mentioning straw hats for youngsters. They're 49 cents worth of protection. The little lassie will probably choose the poke bonnet style while the boys will prefer the cotton pill box in red, white and blue, for 25 cents.

See you on the 24th!

DOROTHY DIX

Dear Miss Dix: The man is handsome, popular and successful. His wife is dowdy, plain, uninteresting, an utter failure as a wife. Her husband gives her a generous allowance, provides everything for her comfort and gives her first consideration over all others, but he comes to me for companionship, understanding and diversion. He has had my youth, my vitality and my love. Yet he gives me the remnants of his time and goes home nightly to the woman who bears his name. Why is it that these married parasites, the women who do absolutely nothing to hold their husbands, have a power to keep their men until the end of the world?

Answer: Every woman who has ever met a philandering married man, whether she encountered him in his office or in society, knows that his approach is via the sympathy route. He is always unhappily married to a woman who is not his real mate, who does not attempt to enter into his life and inspire him, and so on.

But after the girl has thrown her cap over the windmill and wrecked her life for him, he doesn't even consider breaking his old ties and putting her in his wife's place. He has got what he wants and as for the girl—well, it is just too bad, but there is nothing on earth she can do about it. She can't make a married man marry her if he doesn't want to.

IN STEP WITH STYLE

By MARGUERITE DALZIEL

New Trends
In Summer
Sweaters

A far cry from the classic pull-over and cardigan models we've known for many years are the stylish sweaters making their appearance this season.

The merest hint of rolled collar, lunging neckline, brief sleeves, gay contrasting bands of color, give them a glamor all of their own that lifts them completely out of the "strictly for office or sports wear" class.

Many an elegant model, with new collar detailing, or perhaps a pert row of buttons encircling the neckline, is partnering a casual skirt, to complete a distinguished afternoon ensemble. The sweater is finding its way into the evening wear class, too, in fluffy angoras, or finely woven models embroidered with gold or silver thread.

You don't have to limit your sweater-wearing to cool weather either, for designers are giving us variety plus in new lightweight models.

One of the most popular versions for summer is the sleeveless model, with modified plunging neckline. Another features long sleeves shirred at the wrist and at the waistline, giving a blouse-like appearance.

The color range is unlimited with watermelon, dawn light (a pale rose), stratosphere blue, golden days (amber), topping the list for summer wear.

Added attraction of the new sweaters is their variety in price. Attractive models can be had from $4.95 up.

A newcomer in the classic sweater, is the soft, fleecy lamb's wool model. It is shown in local stores in white, navy, brown, black and several pastel tones, and while it is moderately priced it compares favorably with many of the more expensive sweaters. Skirts are as casual and cool as the sweaters with which they are paired. In creaseless jersey they are shown in basic colors—black, pearl grey, navy and light blue.

Their beauty lies in the easy-to-care for qualities, as many of them are styled with soft, unpressed pleats that need no touch with an iron to keep them fresh. For the slim girlish figure, the buttoned back and large pocket design is popular.

To add finishing touches for an afternoon ensemble, wear brief white gloves and crisp white cloche set back from the forehead.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Asparagus with Scrambled Eggs

Twelve stalks asparagus, 2 tablespoons butter, 6 eggs, 1/2 teaspoon salt, pepper, 6 slices toast.

Cut asparagus in 1-inch pieces and cook in boiling, salted water for 10 minutes. Drain. Melt fat in top of double boiler, add well-beaten eggs, stir over boiling water and stir gently until the eggs begin to thicken. Add asparagus, salt and pepper. Continue stirring gently until eggs are cooked but not dry. Serve on hot, buttered toast. Yield: Six servings.

Mohammedanism—Mrs. O. A. Butters gave an interesting talk on "Mohammedanism," at a meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of First United Church. The speaker, drawing on her experiences during many years spent in Persia, pointed out many points of similarity between the religion of Islam and both Christianity and Judaism. Mrs. J. G. Cruikshank, first vice-president, conducted the meeting and led the devotional period.

Silver Tea
In Charming Surroundings

Vases of pale pink carnations, white and pink stocks and other early summer blooms, added fragrance and color to the charming drawing-room setting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cameron, Runnymede Avenue, yesterday afternoon for the silver tea sponsored by the Victoria Women's Progressive Conservative Association.

More than 200 visitors were greeted by Mrs. Cameron, and president, Mrs. R. C. Campbell. A large bowl of bronze tulips and copper beech leaves created effective floral arrangements in the entrance hall.

Flame tulips in a silver bowl, flanked by tall tapers of a deeper hue, centred the tea table where Mrs. Whitworth Stanbury, Mrs. Herbert Anson, Mrs. J. Taylor, Mrs. J. T. Goodland and Mrs. J. Fox presided at the silver urns. Mrs. R. E. Chambers, tea convener, was assisted by Mesdames F. H. Harvey, Edward Liersch, E. Bevan-Pritchard, H. C. Ingall and M. E. Jackson. Mrs. Charles H. Smith and Mrs. Hubert Lethaby were in charge of door receipts. A large needlepoint covered stool was won by Mrs. A. R. Heater.

Lemon Slices—It's traditional and perfection for black bean soup. Is good with clam chowder, hot or jellied consommé or bouillon.

Frankfurter Slices—Cut frankfurters into thin slices. Brown in butter or bacon fat. Serve with green pea or bean with bacon soups.

Ideal for wear now and through the summer is this soft, light sweater, trimmed with ocean pearl buttons, over a girle-waist skirt of pre-shrunk jersey.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRID

No one can regiment, police or force love. It is not an emotion which can be resuscitated once it is tattered or dead.

It must be acknowledged, too, that some women are more strongly maternal than they are wifely. It may be that after a child is born the mother repudiates the father in fear of another pregnancy. Or, it may be just as true that all her devotion turns toward the child and the father is neglected.

Mr. W. D. R. writes: "I have a wife and baby. I love them more than words can express. She is a wonderful wife and the baby is the sweetest in the world."

"Our baby is one year old and we have been married eight years. Now, my wife has gone home to her mother and I am suffering terribly because she is away. She says she may come back and then she says she may get a divorce. I know at one time she loved me and I hope to bring her back. Can my son grow up and be happy without a father to care for him and give him the things he wants?"

It is unusual for a man to be so effusive in his expressions of affection. For some reason, hard to define, this sounds like a letter written by a mother whose husband has deserted her, instead of the other way about. I have to trust that the situation is as you describe it.

Our leaflet No. 75, "Help to Be Had From Books," offers lists of books on various subjects of interest to parents. It may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Myrtle Meyer Eldrid in care of this newspaper.

Canadian Women's Institutes Honor Founder

State Secretary Bradley is shown at the unveiling of a portrait of Mrs. Adelaide Hoodless, founder of the first Women's Institute at Stoney Creek, Ont., in 1897. Mrs. J. B. Peck of Montreal, daughter of Mrs. Hoodless, looks on as the portrait is unveiled by Mrs. Raymond Sayre of Ackworth, Iowa, world president of the Associated Country Women of the World which grew out of the institute movement. Portrait later was presented to the Dominion archives.—(CP Photo)

Gertrude Gower Heads Home Economic Group; Motto, Service To Community

Members of the Victoria Home Economic Association installed Mrs. Gertrude Gower as president at their annual banquet meeting last evening in Terry's Rose Room.

Others on the executive are Mrs. Irene McGuire, vice-president; Mrs. Harriet Musto, secretary; Mrs. Florence Morley, treasurer; Miss Doris Noble, program; Miss Beth Ramsay, scholarship; Miss Mary Robertson, social; Mrs. Elma Innes, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Corrine Walters, textile; Mrs. Betty Scotts, publicity.

Bowls of yellow and pink tulips and attractive pale green place-cards mounted with dogwood motif decorated the table.

Miss Yvonne Love, retiring president, welcomed members. In her report she drew attention to the club's motto—to give service to the community.

"We have tried to do this in two ways," she explained. "By developing a fund which will encourage young women to continue their studies in home economics, and by raising money for this project."

"Miss Love noted that the club's main money-making venture was a series of three successful talks which she hoped the chapter would repeat soon.

Mrs. Gower was introduced by Miss Love. In her brief speech of acceptance the president reminded members that they should take their place in the community.

"We must not forget that we have had privileges others have not, and it is our duty to help others whenever we can."

Reports were given by Phyllis McCormick, secretary; Florence Morley, treasurer, who noted a cash balance of $55.35; Maxine Ellis, program; Doris Noble, publicity.

Miss Ramsay spoke of the scholarship of $50 awarded by the club to a student continuing home economics in University of British Columbia. She explained that the scholarship had now been changed to a bursary which would be awarded annually to Vancouver Island woman student continuing second, third or fourth year studies in home economics at University of British Columbia.

An interesting and amusing program of games was conducted by Maxine Ellis assisted by Joyce Crabtree and prizewinner was Doris Noble. A sing-song was enjoyed by the members and concluded with university cheers of Saskatchewan, Alberta, Manitoba and U.B.C.

The program concluded with songs given by Mrs. Irene McGuire accompanied by Mrs. T. W. A. Gray.

Seven Attendants In Floral Organdy Lovely Foil For Satin-Gowned Bride

Delicate tones of early summer blossoms—seen in the stiffened organdy gowns worn by seven attendants in the bridal retinue of Miss Evelyn Anne McGonigle and John J. Rogers, added to the charm and beauty of the early evening candlelit wedding nuptials Saturday in Christ Church Cathedral.

Wedding principals are now motoring through Pacific Coast states. They will return to Victoria to make their home.

The bride, daughter of John

McGonigle, 2590 Empire Avenue and the late Mrs. McGonigle, was given in marriage to the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Rogers, Sidney, B.C., by her father.

Her satin bridal dress was enriched with lace yoke, and the fitted bodice buttoned at the back over a lace peplum. The full skirt and lengthy train featured insets of lace.

French embroidered net created the billowing veil held with a cluster of miniature calla lilies and orange blossoms. Calla lilies were repeated in her cascade bouquet.

The bride also wore a crystal necklace belonging to her mother.

Shell pink carnations to match her organdy over taffeta gown were carried by matron of honor, Mrs. Peter Whitehouse. Bridesmaids, Miss Janda Hillier, cousin of the bride, and Miss Gwendyth Phillips, wore identical buttercup yellow gowns, with bonnets and mitts to harmonize with their cascade bouquets.

Pale pink organdy posed over crisp white taffeta gowned, junior bridesmaids Misses Shirley and Arlene Cave. They carried rose-toned carnations.

In white organdy bouffant frocks were flower girls, cousin of the bride, Miss Pamela Blatchford and Miss Beverley Eldridge, niece of the groom. They held miniature cascades of yellow carnations and wore bandeaux of similar blossoms.

William Eldridge was best man for his brother-in-law and ushering were Don McKinnon, New Westminster, and Harold Cowell.

A reception followed at Strathcona Hotel. Lighted candles flanked the three-tier wedding cake made by Mrs. A. Cave and decorated with a tiny basket of lily of the valley.

N. Phillips gave the toast and Thomas Crabbe sang "Because." For traveling Mrs. Rogers selected a powder blue ensemble and corsage bouquet of Johanna Hill roses.

Report Tea, Sale—Lodge Primrose, Daughters of England No. 32, met in K. of P. Hall with Mrs. J. Joyce presiding and Mrs. M. Kendall, district deputy, assisting. Report of the tea held in Douglas Room, Hudson's Bay Co., convener by Mrs. E. Lansdell was given and a report was made on a rummage sale in Hard of Hearing Hall, convener by Mrs. F. Chapple. It was noted that the annual church service would be in First Baptist Church on May 28. Members and officers will meet at the church at 7.15.

Gyrettes At Chez Marcel For Annual Bridge Dinner

Thirty-five members of the Gyrette Bridge Club gathered in the private dining-room at Chez Marcel yesterday evening for an annual club dinner. Tables were decorated with tulips, narcissi and lily of the valley. Mrs. A. J. Saunders, club president, acted as hostess for the evening and seated with her at the head table were other members of the executive, Mrs. J. Glassford, Mrs. C. Powell, Mrs. W. Clark and Mrs. W. Hudson. A cocktail party preceded the dinner and later in the evening bridge and canasta were played.

To Attend I.O.D.E. Meeting In Montreal

Mrs. W. C. Nichol, St. Charles Street, is leaving Victoria tomorrow for Montreal where, as second vice-president, Provincial Chapter, I.O.D.E., she will attend annual meetings of National Chapter and celebrations attendant on the 50th anniversary of the Order.

Following the annual meeting Mrs. Nichol will sail from Quebec on June 9 for England and will travel in the British Isles and on the Continent for the next three months, returning to Victoria in the early autumn.

Mrs. J. L. Gates, fourth vice-president, Provincial Chapter, is also leaving this week-end for Montreal to attend national convention, and another Victorian present at meetings will be Mrs. J. L. Ford who is representing Vancouver Island chapters.

Mrs. Ford left the city end of April, traveling to California, Chicago, Woodstock, Ont., and Toronto, where she is visiting relatives.

Following the convention Mrs. Ford will visit her son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. W. Ford, in Halifax before returning to this city end of July.

Surprise Baby Shower

A decorated pink and white cradle held gifts received by Mrs. Bernard Johnson when she was guest of honor at a surprise baby shower given by Miss Greta Molin at her home on Hillside Avenue Tuesday evening.

On arrival Mrs. Johnson was presented with a corsage of pink carnations, and her mother, Mrs. Duncan Logan, received a gardenia and lily of the valley corsage bouquet.

Invited guests were Mesdames D. Atkinson, A. Brown, A. Creelman, E. Dack, E. Gardner, W. Long, H. Molin, A. Seed, G. Schofield, D. Schofield, F. Shaver, E. Smith, R. Twamley, G. Twamley, F. Twamley, R. Vincent, G. Wyatt, N. Zaph, Misses M. Atkinson, M. Dauphin, F. Logan, L. McDonald, Donna, Vilma and Norma Creelman, and V. Twamley.

Infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Best, Goat Island, in Ganges Harbor, was christened recently in St. George's Church at Ganges, receiving the names Robin Christopher. Archdeacon G. H. Holmes performed the ceremony and godparents were Mrs. P. Penner, Mrs. J. Halliwell, and Prof. J. Huxley, all of London, Eng.

Miss Margot Forrest, who will become the wife of Mr. George William Clayton in a ceremony this week-end, was honor guest, at a miscellaneous shower party given by Mrs. Trevor Digby, Rockwell Avenue, Monday evening. Miss Forrest and her mother, Mrs. W. H. Forrest received corsage bouquets of pink carnations and lily of the valley, and of pink carnations, respectively. A wishing well held shower gifts. Others present were Misses Nona Dawson, Jacqueline Le Huquet, Dorothy Bayne, Lois Food, Mary Lou Goughly, Jean Allbright, Joan Chalonner, and Lois Digby.

HOLLYWOOD REVIEW

Actor McCrea Shows He's Properly Adjusted To Life

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The whole thing started when an actor tossed Joel McCrea, a copy of a financial daily.

I expected to see McCrea gobble up the news about stocks and bonds, since he is considered one of the most "loaded" (with moola) stars in town. But he confessed he never reads the sheet.

"I never sell," he remarked, "so why should I read a financial paper?" Then he drew on two decades of experience in Hollywood and made this observation: "I think the trouble with most movie actors is that they think about everything but acting. They are either doting the horses or worrying about what their stocks are doing, or mulling some deal to buy an apartment house. They devote their time to everything except what brings in the money to invest—motion pictures."

SATISFYING BUSINESS
"The movies are a warm, satisfying business, too. And you can't give a good performance when you worry about that call to your business agent."

McCrea's own financial interests are large, but apparently simple.

"I have my ranch, but its needs are meagre," he said. "I have a man there who can handle everything himself. I could go away for six months and I wouldn't be missed."

His other investments include stocks. "I buy reliable stocks and hold onto them. They may go down, but I don't care. They always go up again."

He is one of the few stars who handle their own money. "If I could make this much money, I ought to have the brains to know what to do with it."

Royal Theatre
Heralded as one of the most unusual romantic dramas ever to reach the screen, "My Foolish Heart," currently at the Royal Theatre, stars Dana Andrews and Susan Hayward in the story of a wife who married just after she discovers that she is to have a child by another man.

Dominion Theatre
When a film unit landed on Barra to make "Tight Little Island," now at the Dominion Theatre, the staid Islanders, few of whom had ever seen a motion picture, bothered to gather around the cameras while shooting was in progress, and none of the stars were even bothered by crowds of autograph hounds.

Credit For Argentina
WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. government announced Wednesday the beginning of a "new era of economic collaboration" with Argentina, underscored by the extension of a $125,000,000 credit to the South American country. The action symbolizes at least a temporary end to a long period of bickering and ill feeling between the United States and the Argentine regime of President Peron.

Forty Rounded Up In Narcotics Raid

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Forty persons were arrested Wednesday in Galveston as federal and county officials moved in on what they termed a $1,000,000 dope smuggling racket. Al Scharff, U.S. customs agent in charge here, said the heroin-marijuana ring may be tied with Charles (Lucky) Luciano, notorious underworld figure who was deported to Italy some years ago. He said the ring had connections in Detroit, New York and Chicago.

Four Generations Of Pendrays Have Worked For Victoria Firm

Founded in 1875, by William J. Pendray, as a soap manufacturing business, Bapco paint has been continuously managed by Pendrays. Today a fourth generation of the well-known Victoria family, Pamela Pendray, is an employee of the company. The 19-year-old daughter of W. Allan Pendray, Bapco general manager, is a teletype operator in the general office of the firm in Victoria.

First Plant Where Empress Now Stands

Old site of the Bapco plant was to the right of the Causeway where the Empress Hotel now stands. At the turn of the century the bridge was replaced by the present granite retaining wall and fill.

ON SITE OF EMPRESS HOTEL

75 Years Ago Young Englishman Started Famous House Of Pendray

Seventy-five years ago this year, in a tiny building on Humboldt Street in Victoria, on the site of the Empress Hotel of today, a young Englishman, William J. Pendray started a soap manufacturing business.

Thus he founded the well-known House of Pendray, which today sends its paint products to many parts of western Canada. The word Bapco today is a household name in many places. Little could W. J. Pendray foresee this tremendous growth that day three-quarters of a century ago when he so buoyantly opened his soap works.

His first venture was so successful that the next year it outgrew the original plant and late in 1876 Mr. Pendray had a larger factory built about 200 yards west on Humboldt Street. Every few years, with the business constantly growing, the plant was enlarged.

HOUSEHOLD NAME OF BAPCO

In 1899 Mr. Pendray bought the Victoria branch of an eastern paint company that was located on the north side of the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway bridge on Store Street. It was then that the firm name British America Paint Company was started and from that evolved the household name of today, Bapco. A few weeks after he bought the paint firm, Mr. Pendray commenced construction of a brick factory on a site adjoining the soap factory. Soon soap and paint were being manufactured side by side by the growing House of Pendray.

In 1906, the Canadian Pacific Railway started construction of its Empress Hotel. They did not want their guests looking from their windows into a soap and paint plant. So negotiations were opened with Mr. Pendray and he sold the property to the C.P.R., moving to present location in 1907, where it is today on Laurel Point, at the entrance to the Inner Harbor.

After Mr. Pendray's death in 1913, the Lever Brothers bought the soap plant, which continued to operate in Victoria until 1920, when it was moved to Vancouver.

From Victoria the firm first expanded its business into Vancouver, then Calgary, then Edmonton and later to Regina. In these cities they own their own wholesale as well as retail branches. Today the B.A. Paint Company is recognized by long odds the leading paint factory in western Canada. Indeed, it is one of the largest in all Canada. Its business has increased to such an extent that there are now more than 300 employees. The firm's trade names are well-known throughout the west—Bapco, of course, Bapone and Satin-Glo—and everyone knows Satin-Glo Sam, the smiling colored boy who grins all over as he wields a paint brush. In addition to household paints, the firm manufactures industrial paints, marine paints, varnishes and enamels of all types.

The name of Pendray is deeply etched in the history of British Columbia. Historian R. E. Gosnell, in 1906, in a series of sketches on prominent British Columbians wrote this of the House of Pendray: "Mr. W. J. Pendray came of good, honest and industrious English family and for his own part has been hard working and earnest since he was a boy in age. He was full of ambition and energy and pushed the first soap enterprise so well that it rapidly expanded in capacity and production. Besides laundry and fancy soaps he also makes washing soda and bluing."

As to the Pendray paint business, Gosnell wrote: "Mr. Pendray has all the machinery for the grinding and mixing of paints and he turns out all the standard colors of paint. He has a power printing press on which all the labels for his goods are printed. Also, his paint cans and buckets are all made in his own tin shop, and in his box factory are made all the wooden boxes needed for his products, besides a large output of paper boxes sold to the wholesale houses of the city."

Copper Paint Gives Full Protection Underwater

Marine paint is one of the specialties of the British America Paint Company. Panels painted with Bapco copper paint have been left for 365 days in the sun. The result of these tests shows Bapco copper paint gives complete protection against the boring teredo and prevents the growth of barnacles and clinging marine growth.

Pioneer Paint Makers Set Pace In Modern Trends

When W. J. Pendray commenced manufacturing paint in Victoria so long ago, he had in mind nothing more glamorous than good, durable paint for the outside of houses, for fences and perhaps barns, though in those days whitewash was quite good enough for most farmers. How surprised he would be if he could see today the paints his sons and grandsons are manufacturing in the modern, streamlined plant he started when Victoria was young. If anyone had suggested in those days that basement floors some day would be painted, he would have been told he was quite mad. Yet today, the modern home has its basement floor painted.

The Bapco Company now has paints for every purpose and attractive booklets to explain how to paint.

VICTORIA, B.C., 1875

Board, $1 Daily, $5 Weekly; Meals, 37c; Baths, 3 For $1

Seventy-five years ago when the House of Pendray was founded in Victoria, the B.C. capital was starting to grow up. The city was born in 1842 as a Hudson's Bay fort by Sir James Douglas, later Governor of the Crown Colony of Vancouver Island and of the Crown Colony of British Columbia. In 1862 Victoria was incorporated as a city and Thomas Harris was the first mayor.

By 1875 Victoria had outgrown its fort stage and began to spread out. Vancouver was not much more than a village on the shores of Burrard Inlet. Canada's third largest city was not incorporated until more than 10 years after the House of Pendray was founded.

While Pendray was, expanding his business, old Victoria had many exciting events in the year 1875.

Early in June there were two disastrous fires. Muir's Mill at Sooke burned down with a loss of $20,000. The next day the whole town turned out to see a fierce blaze in the Jockey Club billiard room on Johnson Street. The inmates of the Colonial Hotel next door had to flee in night clothes and before morning many nearby buildings were gone, including Mayor Drummond's stove store and the San Francisco public baths.

In May Judge A. T. Bushy died in New Westminster and in September Capt. W. H. McNeill, one-time chief factor of the Hudson's Bay Company and after whom McNeill Bay, one of Victoria's many fine beaches, was named, passed away.

One day a shipwrecked crew of United States sailors landed in the old naval port of Esquimalt. They lost their ship, the U.S.S. Saranac, on Ripple Rock in Seymour Narrows.

In September one of the Pacific Coast's worst marine disasters occurred. The steamer Pacific, outward bound to San Francisco, foundered off Cape Flattery. Between 300 and 400 people lost their lives and only two were saved.

There were more leisurely days. The Australian Hotel at James Bay Bridge, near the Pendray plant, advertised: "We furnish the best accommodation for travelers to be had in Victoria. Board per week, $5; board per day, $1; separate rooms furnished; music and pleasure boats for the use of patrons of the hotel; the table is supplied with the best in the market; W. C. S. Seeley, proprietor."

Eight Ways To Brighten Up Your Home With Paint

- Here are some house-painting hints:
1. De-emphasize chimneys by painting them the same color as the body of the house.
 2. Avoid calling attention to different-sized windows by painting the sash and trim in the body color, emphasizing mass rather than detail.
 3. Say "welcome" to visitors by painting the doorway in a bright, contrasting color.
 4. Small houses look larger when painted in light colors; large houses can be made to seem smaller by the use of darker values.
 5. Undesirable architectural details to be "painted out" by using an over-all color on body and trim.
 6. To reduce the apparent height of a building, paint the roof and upper shutters darker than the body of the building.
 7. Minimize architectural defects by painting dormers and gables in the body color. Draw attention away from upper part of building by using a contrasting color on the lower shutters and front door.
 8. A low house can be made to appear taller if the body color is used on dormers and if the Seventy-five years ago W. J. Pendray founded a company. Still owned and controlled by the founder's family, this pioneer western industry is today the largest of its kind west of Toronto.

A quarter of a century ago, UNITED DISTILLERS was formed in Vancouver. Today, it is Canada's largest independent distillery. Like Bapco, UDL looks back with pride . . . looks forward with confidence in the future of British Columbia and its pioneer industries.

Vary Color Schemes In Halls, Restrooms, Lunch Rooms

Restrooms, halls, lunchrooms and wash rooms should vary in color treatment from the rest of the plant.

These areas provide an opportunity for relieving the monotony of the work situation through the use of bold colors. Color designs for restrooms should cater to the employees' tastes and provide a cheerful, relaxing atmosphere.

Cafeterias may be painted in peach, rust or tan colors considered most suitable for this purpose. Bright colors are indicated for hall and stairways, because of their stimulating and directional value. When color is not used as a visual aid for the work task, its function as a decorative and invigorating medium should be fully exploited.

NEW STUDY OF CC41 CLOTH

War-Time Trade Mark May Be Permanent British Feature

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON (CP)—A government trade mark associated with the darkest days of the Second World War may become a permanent feature of British life.

The insignia is "CC41," hall-mark of 'utility,' as familiar to housewives as their shopping bags and ration books.

Early in Hitler's war, the government had the Lancashire clothing industry agree to devise a range of cloths of precise specifications, designed to keep the people clothed at a minimum cost. The plan worked well. The blue "CC41" mark stitched on cotton goods and some other materials became a guarantee of cheapness and reasonable quality. In a country where the best is always for export, women dressed in utility goods seldom were confused with the latest Paris models, but they didn't mind.

The goods produced for the utility market are tax-free. Non-utility goods carry a whopping purchase tax. So the women buried their pride and pocketed the savings.

Lancashire agrees that the utility scheme has served the country well, but it's not so sure that it fulfills its function today.

Sir Raymond Streat, chairman of the Cotton Board, said the plan which was started as an emergency measure in 1941 has become "a complicated jumble of compromise decisions, piled one on top of the other, often taken under pressure of circumstances."

QUICK REPLY

Sir Raymond's remarks drew a reply from Harold Wilson, President of the Board of Trade. Wilson said the government's views are that the utility scheme should continue "as a permanent feature of our economy."

But the government yielded to Sir Raymond in past weeks. Wilson announced in the House of Commons that he had decided to appoint a committee to inquire into the supply position of utility cotton goods and determine what changes may be necessary.

The committee will be headed by Hervey Rhodes, Wilson's parliamentary secretary. Rhodes, 45-year-old Yorkshire mill-owner, started work as a mill worker at the age of 12.

Hull Plans To Have Cenotaph Fraser, Columbia

HULL, Que. (CP)—The dream of a monument to honor Hull's dead in two world wars may soon become a reality.

The lone stump of an old sawmill chimney which stands solid in Jacques Cartier park looking east across the Ottawa River to Rideau Falls, will shortly be replaced by a cenotaph.

Plans for the cenotaph started back in 1919, but did not take definite shape until September, 1938, when the federal district commission gave the Hull branch of the Canadian Legion permission to transform the old chimney into a war memorial. However, the Second World War delayed plans.

Now the Hull branch of the Canadian Legion has revived the project. It hopes to complete the unfinished cenotaph at an estimated cost of $25,000 before the end of the year.

The cenotaph, following the lines of the square chimney stack, will take the form of a white limestone obelisk rising 75 feet from four stone buttresses. The design for the project was first drawn by W. E. Noffke, an Ottawa architect, some 20 years ago and revised in 1939.

Canadians Make Bow At London Concert

LONDON (CP)—Wigmore Hall concerts—the traditional first bow to London's critics by new performers—have been given by two Canadian pianists, Gordon Manley, Vancouver, and George Haddad, Eastend, Sask., and Toronto.

Though newspaper shortages often restrict critics' notes on such occasions to their notebooks, some notices did appear and were generally favorable.

And there was no mistaking the enthusiasm of the audiences which almost packed the venerable hall for both recitals, held within 48 hours of one another.

Wigmore concerts are rarely frequented by other than the reviewers, students, devotees of a particular work to be performed, and friends of the recitalist.

Both Manley's and Haddad's, however, were swelled by a good representation of the Canadian colony and London friends of the Dominion, such as Sir Shuldham Redfern, a former private secretary at Rideau Hall, Ottawa.

English composer Arthur Benjamin, who first became acquainted with Manley's work while in Vancouver during the war, was among the British musicians who attended his debut.

Both artists now are on recital tours of the continent and expect to return to Canada in the early summer.

STOCKHOLM (CP)—A new luxury hotel will be opened in July at Marstrand, popular sea resort on Sweden's west coast, not far from Gothenburg. Furnished and decorated in "Swedish Modern," it will have 80 rooms and a dining-room capable of serving 225 guests.

New Health Stations

OSLO (CP)—The Norwegian Parliament will establish 119 new "Mother and Child" health stations, to be added to the about 500 already in operation. Most of the stations are run by private organizations, others by the state and municipalities.

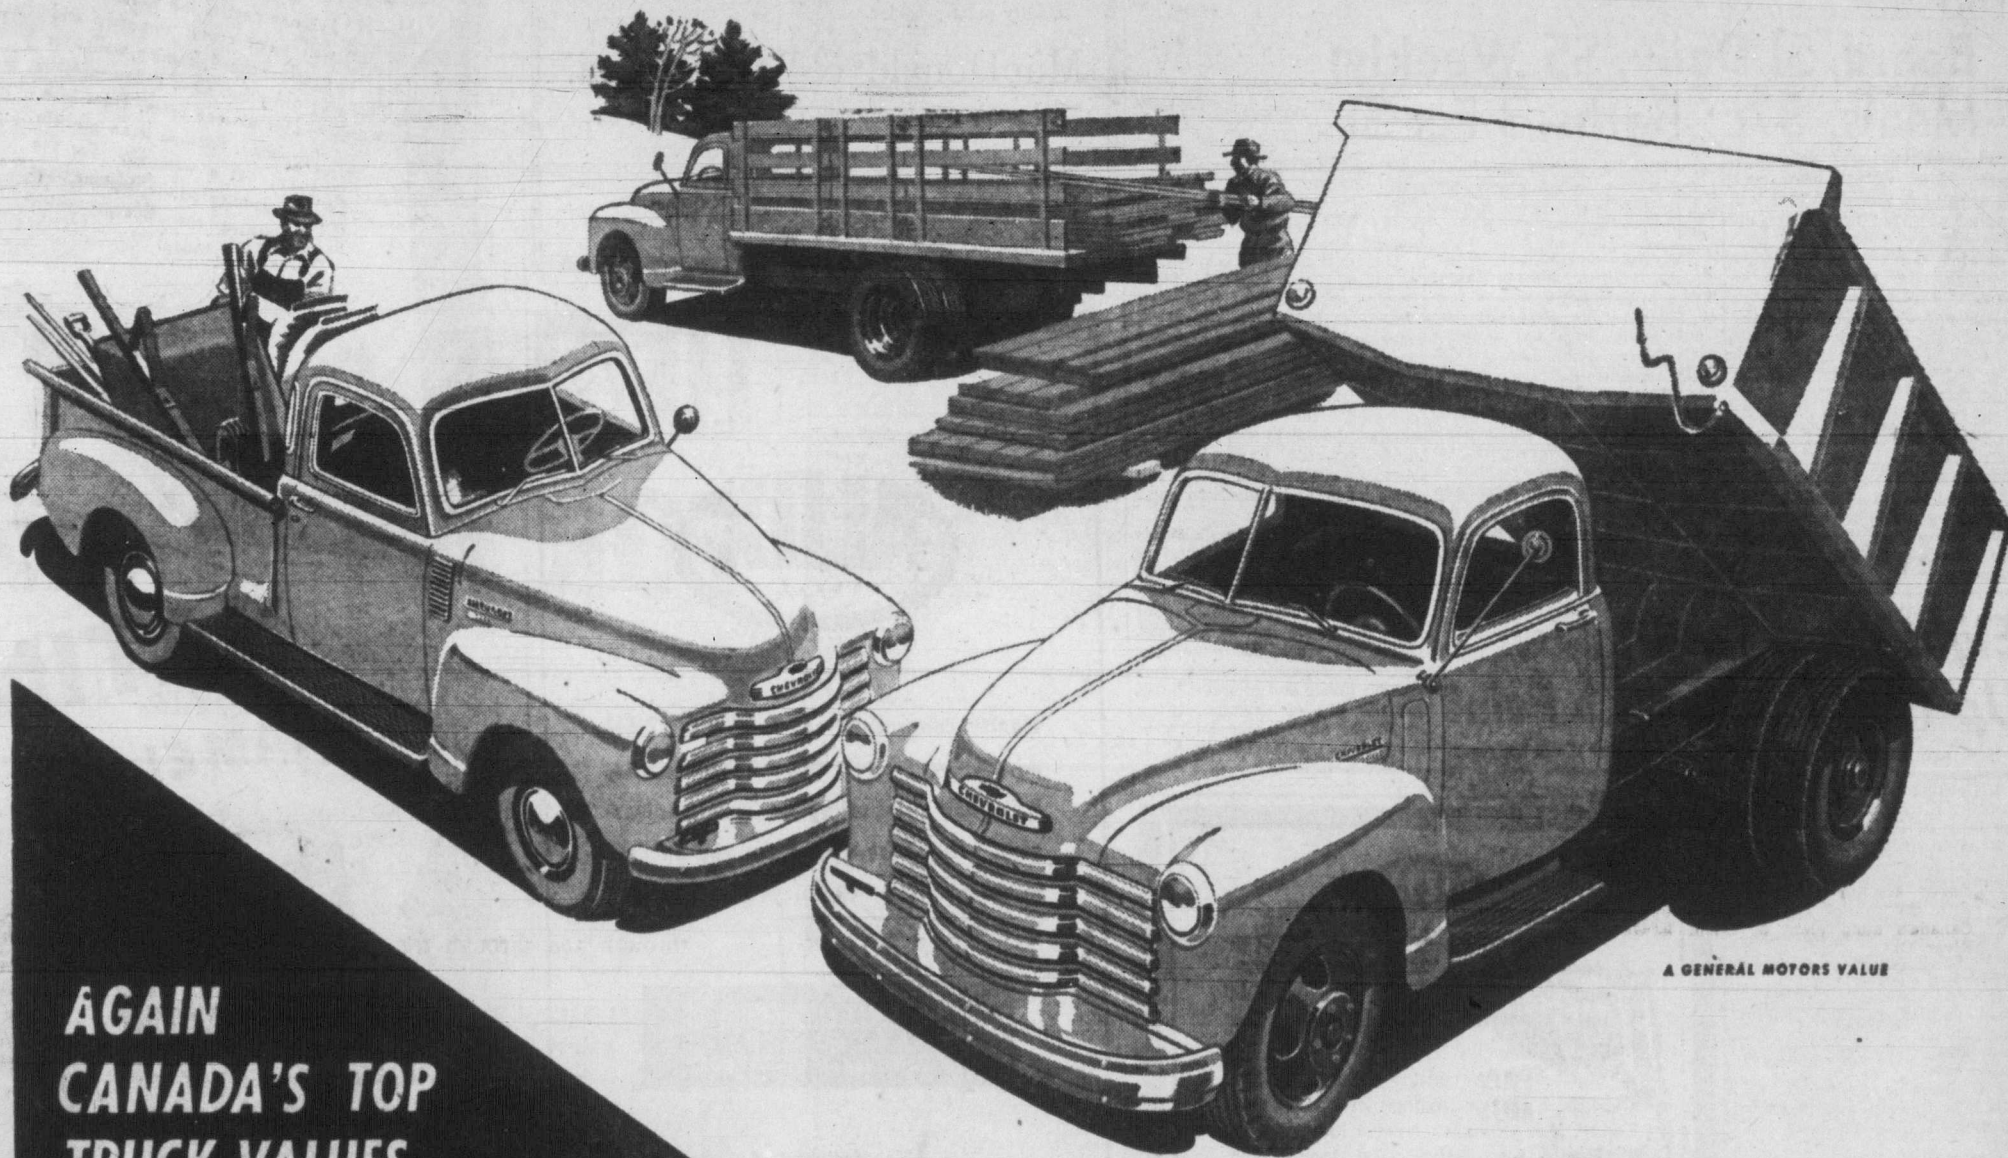

The Rainy River clay plain is an area of approximately 700,000 acres.

'Tom' Has Kittens, Owner Faints

BRISTOL (CP)—A woman here who brought her cat to a dispensary for treatment suddenly fainted—the cat had given birth to kittens. When the lady recovered she said: "What a shock. I thought my cat was ill. It was sold to me as a tom."

Teach Police Manners

QUEBEC (CP)—City police are going to school to learn politeness and courtesy and a few facts about the ancient capital. Traffic director Gerard Girard said the purpose of the lectures is to help officers do their part in a campaign to make tourists welcome this year.

Vatican Offers Secret Archives To Scholars

New Cataloguing Of Vast Store Of Documents Now Nearing Completion

By ADRIENNE FARRELL

VATICAN CITY (Reuter)—The secret archives of the Vatican, rich treasure-house of church history, are being completely modernized as a centre of research for the scholars of the world.

After nearly 10 years' work, Vatican authorities report that the labor of overhauling and cataloguing the vast store of ancient documents is now nearing completion. They hope to finish it within the year.

Founded by Pope Paul V in 1621, the archives have been opened to students for the past 69 years.

Only now, however, has the full work of indexing them by modern methods been realized.

The buildings which house the archives in the heart of the Vatican are also being transformed. The "atelic" reading-rooms on the third floor of the Belvedere Courtyard have been opened up into large and spacious studies.

TERMITE DANGER

Steel linings have been provided in the bookcases and cupboards where the most precious of the documents and books are stored following a double scare from termites during the last two years. An invasion of these pernicious ants was found lodged in the thick Vatican walls within striking distance of the archives.

Modernization of the archives will meet the growing needs of scholars from all over the world who come to Rome to consult the Vatican documents.

Last year, it was estimated that 253 scholars, of various nations and creeds, came to study among the Vatican archives. More than 25,000 documents were consulted and about 13,000 photocopies made.

The archives were designed by Pope Paul to preserve the records of his predecessors and to take important documents from the sacred congregations. From the end of the 17th century, they have also contained the correspondence of the Vatican secretariat of state.

The archives provide an inexhaustible mine of information concerning the part played by the church in medieval and modern times in the ecclesiastical and political affairs of nations.

LARGEST COLLECTION

Among the most important are the 8,000 documents of the Castel Sant'Angelo collection, which was housed in the grim papal fortress on the banks of the Tiber until 1738.

They provide what is probably the largest collection of ancient church documents in the world. During the war, the Vatican archivists helped to collect and precious writings from convents, monasteries and churches throughout Italy. These have now been restored to their original homes.

There remain on the shelves of the Vatican archives several hundred thousand documents and books, placed there over the last 300 years, providing one of the richest sources of historical research material in the world.

New Use Of Hormones To Fight Cancer

MONTREAL (BUP)—Atomic-powered hormones, for long the dream of scientists, have finally been created, but it took 10 men working as a team for three years to do it.

The group of 10 biochemists at McGill University worked steadily in their pursuit of the elusive radio-active hormone, and finally accomplished their task with the aid of isotopes from Canada's atom plant at Chalk River, Ont.

Professor R. D. H. Heard, who headed the McGill group during its long quest, said the radio-active hormones may be a great aid in the fight against cancer.

Already the university has been flooded with requests for the hormones, which may be invaluable also in the treatment of rheumatoid arthritis and high blood pressure.

Two of the hormones, of infinitesimal size and invisible to the eye, are known as estrone and desoxycorticosterone. Both have been made radio-active with the highly-developed isotopes.

Roundheads Take Tea

HINCHINGBROOKE, Huntingdonshire, Eng. (CP)—The descendant of an old-time Royalist Cavalier treated 100 members of the Cromwell Association to tea here. The cavalier host was Viscount Hinchingbrooke, whose ancestor, the first Earl of Sandwich, left Cromwell for King Charles I.

Uninhibited Lumber Town Shows Much Civic Pride

HEARST, Ont. (CP)—This brash, booming northern Ontario lumber town of 2,000 easy-going citizens may well be the most uninhibited place in eastern Canada.

When bushwork is in full swing, Hearst is the mecca of 3,000 lumberjacks employed in the district who each month pour a payroll of $600,000 into the town.

Located at the crossroads of the Algoma Central and Canadian National Railways, 1,650 miles north of Toronto, Hearst is the logical gathering place for district lumberjacks out on spruce. Its closest neighbors are Sault Ste. Marie, 240 miles south; Long Lac, 135 miles west; and Kapuskasing, 60 miles east.

Despite its roistering atmosphere, however, Hearst is a community of earnest, public-spirited citizens with an intense civic pride. The manner in which the new community centre was built is an example.

More than 350 residents donated their labor to build the $90,000 structure. Wood operators in the district gave lumber and the foundation was put in free by a construction company. Next year they plan to build a $30,000 curling rink in the same manner.

"We're proud of our town and we're proud of that community centre," says Mayor George Mc-Nee. "It's the finest centre in Canada for a town this size."

HEN LAYS TENPIN

From Tulips To Eggs, Freaks Abound Here

By TERRY SHAW

Apparently odd Mother Nature has been running amuck in these parts lately. Ask Bob Hutchison who has been deluged with people running up with "I've got more tulips on one stem than you have" sort of thing.

The latest freak of nature was in the form of an egg. An egg? Nothing queer about an egg, you might say. Well, I didn't think so either until about 12.35 Wednesday afternoon when I saw Florence Lantieri from the social department rush in excitedly with something in a box and another young woman trailing her.

Florence went straight to the city editor and I heard her say, "It's an egg."

NO EVERY-DAY TYPE

That was all, brother. From those words, I knew it couldn't be an ordinary every-day type of egg.

I got a closer glimpse of it. From its appearance, I would say the hen that laid it had either been reading too much of L'il Abner and the Schmoos, or else had swallowed a tenpin. It certainly was unlike any other egg I had ever seen.

About three inches in length, it resembled either one of the aforementioned.

The hen that laid this queer specimen is owned by Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Reed, Claremont Avenue, out at Elk Lake.

She is no youngster, either. She has watched 12 summers come and go. The Reeds have hesitated to kill off the old girl as she acts as one of family, having a part in everything they do. And what is more, after her one departure from routine egg-laying, she is now hard at work again producing the more familiar egg-shaped egg.

13 Officers Re-Elected By Orange Lodge

The diamond jubilee session of the Grand Orange Lodge of B.C. today returned to office 13 of 17 officers.

Only changes were J. Fike, North Vancouver, who becomes deputy grand lecturer; H. J. Craswell, Vancouver, new grand auditor, who also will hold the position of juvenile director and Rev. G. Ritchie, Abbotsford, deputy grand chaplain.

Officers remaining in positions held last year were:

J. H. Ferguson, North Vancouver, grand master; Joseph Acheson, Vancouver, deputy grand master; H. Daly, Vancouver, junior deputy grand master; Rev. Canon H. P. Barrett, Vancouver, grand chaplain; S. J. Calhoun, New Westminster, grand secretary.

William H. Brett, Vancouver, grand treasurer; T. W. Robinson, Vancouver, grand marshal; J. Fairclough, Langley Prairie, grand lecturer; J. S. Humphries, Victoria, deputy grand secretary; H. M. Bruton, West Vancouver, grand auditor, and Rev. H. Lennox, Vancouver; Rev. D. Donaldson, Mission City, and Rev. T. H. McAllister, Victoria, all deputy grand chaplains.

Billy Moore, Two, Safe After Fall

Two-year-old Billy Moore, 1350 Esquimalt Road, had a 10-foot fall Wednesday but was fortunate enough to land on top of a stack of soft blankets.

Billy was being carried by his mother, Mrs. J. M. Moore, down a flight of stairs in the General Warehouse Store, 1420 Government Street. The mother tripped on the first landing and Billy slipped from her arms going over a hand rail. Directly below was a table stacked with blankets and it was on this "cushion" the child landed.

He was uninjured, but Mrs. Moore complained of stomach pains as a result of her fall. Both mother and son were taken by city police to Royal Jubilee Hospital for observation.

Two Charged With Careless Driving

Two drivers involved in the May 11 accident at Cook and Lang Streets, in which both vehicles ran off of the road and turned over, were called in city police court today to answer charges of careless driving.

The two are Stanley G. Erickson, 932 Easter Road, and George A. Stuart, 2615 Wark Street. Both were represented by counsel. Pleas of not guilty were entered in each case.

Magistrate Henry C. Hall set Monday as date for trial.

Deserter Rewarded

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—President Syngman Rhee today presented the equivalent of $540 to Lieut. Lee Kun Soon, who deserted the Communist north Korea air force last month.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Florence Nightingale Began Modern Nursing

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Millions of people enter hospitals every year, either because of illness, or more happily, for childbirth. None of these millions ever enter a hospital which does not have nurses. Indeed, it would be unthinkable to have a hospital without nurses, and no hospital today could operate without them. It is only fair, therefore, that nurses should be given more attention and some tribute paid to their devoted services.

Modern nursing owes its origin to the great Florence Nightingale, the anniversary of whose birth occurs on May 12. Until her reforms began to take effect, hospitals were almost all filthy buildings. Patients with bad infections lay side by side with those who had no germ infections at all.

The results of this lack of cleanliness and elementary knowledge of prevention of disease can only be imagined. People who went to hospitals died like flies. Many who went to the "hospitals" of the pre-Nightingale era, considered themselves practically condemned to death—and they were right!

Florence Nightingale's first big opportunity came when the Crimean War broke out in 1854. She offered her services as a nurse. She found on her arrival at the scene of hostilities that in the barrack hospital alone there were four miles of wounded soldiers lying less than 18 inches apart. This was years before the part played by germs in diseases was known or the principles of antiseptic surgery discovered, but Florence Nightingale realized nevertheless that efficient nursing demands cleanliness. She found that the hospital had no basin, towel, soap or broom in the whole place. She set to work with pail and scrub brush and cleanliness followed shortly. The kitchen and the storekeeping quarters received her attentions next and required an equal amount of cleanup and reform.

Of course, she revolutionized the profession of nursing. Before her day most nurses came in an entirely different model. They had had little training and their attitude toward patients was far from that of the "ministering angel," the ideal of which was ushered in by Florence Nightingale.

Miss Nightingale was an invalid most of her life which made her accomplishments all the more remarkable. She is considered the founder of modern nursing. Since Florence Nightingale's time, the nursing profession has gone through many trials and tribulations.

In some respects and at some periods, nurses have truly been the forgotten servants of medicine. They have been underpaid and overworked. Now their economic situation is gradually improving. But today, as always, the ideals of the nursing profession remain service to suffering humanity rather than financial or economic gain. Girls do not go into nursing to get rich.

Housewives are discovering new help for tired menus, in Minute Rice—the marvelous pre-cooked rice now on sale at grocers. And what a thrilling discovery Minute Rice is!

Fluffy, snowy-white, tender—Minute Rice is so amazingly quick and easy to use and makes rice puddings that are delicious beyond your imagining!

And it's ready in minutes, to serve as the perfect accompaniment for stews or curries or creamed foods... for fried chicken or broiled sausages... or quick egg dishes of many kinds.

NO OTHER RICE LIKE IT!

Minute Rice is the only rice of its kind on the market. It's pre-cooked. So you do not cook it like ordinary rice.

There's no washing, no rinsing, no draining, no steaming. You just add it to water and bring to the boil. No further cooking is needed, for plain rice at its snowiest, delectable best. Far quicker to cook than potatoes, macaroni or spaghetti—and what a delightful change!

It's "Magicookery"!

With Minute Rice, a completely new kind of menu planning is

QUICK RICE PUDDING

Combine ¾ cup of Minute Rice, 2½ cups milk, ½ cup raisins, in saucepan. Bring to full boil. Remove from heat, cover; let stand 10 minutes. Combine 1 egg slightly beaten, ½ cup granulated or brown sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon (each) cinnamon and nutmeg. Add a small amount of hot mixture, stir well, and return to saucepan. Add 1 tablespoon butter. Cook gently over low heat about 4 minutes, stirring constantly. Serve warm with cream. Makes 6 servings.

SHORT-CUT SPANISH RICE

Sauté ¼ cup finely diced onion in 2 tablespoons butter. Add 1½ cups (1 package) Minute Rice, 2 cups seasoned tomato juice, ½ teaspoon salt, dash pepper, ¼ teaspoon sugar. Bring to full boil, remove from heat, cover and let stand 10 minutes. A little chopped green pepper may be added. Serve with crisp bacon. A rosy, appetizing dish for four.

CONSOMME RICE

Combine 1 package Minute Rice, 1 can (10 oz.) condensed consommé and ½ cup water. Bring to full boil, cover, remove from heat; season and let stand 10 minutes. Delicious with broiled salmon steaks and a green salad. Makes 4 servings.
